THE EVENING JOURNAL ALMANAC. 1885.

The Year 1885.

The year 1885 is the latter part of the 5645th and the beginning of the 5646th since the creation of the world according to the Jews. It answers to the 6598th of the Julian Period, the 2638th from the foundation of Rome, 2661st year of the Olympiads, and the year 7393-94 of the Byzantine era. The 110th year of American Independence begins July 4.

Eclipses in the Year 1885.

There will be four Eclipses this year — two of the Sun and two of the Moon.

I. An Annular Eclipse of the Sun, on March 16, visible as a Partial Eclipse over the United States generally, and as an Annular Eclipse from latitude 36 degrees on the Pacific coast, in a north-easterly direction, to Hudson Bay in latitude 71 degrees.

II. A Partial Eclipse of the Moon, March 30, invisible in the United States.

III. A Total Eclipse of the Sun, September 8; invisible in the United States; visible in the southern part of South America, and in a part of Australia.

IV. A Partial Eclipse of the Moon, September 23 and 24, visible generally in the United States.

Morning Stars.

Mercury, from January 3 to March 13, and from April 27 to June 27, and from September 2 to October 16, and from December 11 to the end of the year.
Venus, until April 27.

Evening Stars.

Mercury, from March 13 to April 27, and from June 27 to September 2, and from October 16 to December 11.
Venus, from April 27 to the end of the year.

MOONLIGHT NIGHTS. — At 4 days old the moon shines till about 10 at night; at 5 days till 11; at 6 days till 12; at 7 days till 1 in the morning. At 15 days (full moon) it rises at 6 in the evening; at 16 days at a quarter past 7; at 17 days at half-past eight; at 18 days 10; at 19 days 11; at 20 days 12.

THE MOON AND THE WEATHER. — Prof. J. P. Nichols says of the supposed influence of the changes of the moon on the weather: "No relation exists between these two classes of phenomena. The question has been tested and decided over and over again by the discussion of long and reliable meteorological tables; nor do I know any other way of testing any such point."

THE NEARER THE SUN THE GREATER THE COLD. — This phenomenon is explained by the sunbeams' bringing to the solid earth most of their light and heat, while they pass uninterrupted through the thin upper strata of the atmosphere, leaving them always of a temperature much below freezing. This low temperature is proved by the fact that all lofty mountains, even under the equator, are capped with never-melting snows; and that the higher the peaks are, though nearer the sun, the colder they are. Thus aeronauts in their balloon-car, if they mounted very high, would be frozen to death if not protected by very warm clothing.

THE MAGNETIC POLE. — Prof. Thomson says that the magnetic pole is now near Boothia Felix, or a thousand miles west of the geographical pole. In 1657 it pointed due north, and will do so again in 1976, as it is now moving from the west to the east.

LONGEVITY. — The average duration of human life has not grown less during the last fifty years, and the longest lives are ascribed to scientific men, and especially to astronomers. The mean length of life of 1,741 astronomers was sixty-four years and three months.

UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

EXECUTIVE.

President.

CHESTER A. ARTHUR, of New York. Term expires March 4, 1885.

The President is chosen by electors, who are elected by the People, each State having as many as it has Senators and Representatives in Congress. He holds office four years; is Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States; has power to grant pardons and reprieves for offenses against the United States; makes treaties by and with the advice and consent of the Senate; nominates and, with the consent of the Senate, appoints all Cabinet, Diplomatic, Judicial and Executive Officers; has power to convene Congress or the Senate only; communicates to Congress, by message at every session, the condition of the Union, and recommends such measures as he deems expedient; receives all Foreign Ministers; takes care that the laws are faithfully executed, and the public business transacted. Salary, $50,000 a year.

F. J. PHILLIPS, New York, Private Secretary.
O. L. PRUDEN, New Jersey, Assistant Private Secretary.

WM. H. CROOK, District of Columbia, Executive Clerk.

C. M. HENDLEY, New York, Executive Clerk.
Col. A. F. ROCKWELL, Com'r Public Buildings.

Vice-President.

GEORGE F. EDMUNDS, of Vermont, President pro tem. of the Senate.

The Vice-President is chosen by the electors at the same time and in the same manner as the President; is President of the Senate, and has the casting vote therein. In case of the death, resignation, disability or removal of the President, his powers and duties devolve upon the Vice-President for the residue of his term. In case of vacancy, where the Vice-President succeeds to the Presidential office, the President pro tempore of the Senate becomes Vice-President. Salary, $8,000 a year.

CABINET.

Secretary of State.

FREDERICK T. FRELINGHUYSEN, of New Jersey.

The State Department preserves the public archives, records, laws, arguments and treaties, and supervises their publication; conducts all business and correspondence arising out of foreign relations, makes out and records passports, commissions, etc.

Secretary of the Treasury.

HUGH McCULLOCH, of Maryland.

The Treasury Department receives and has charge of all moneys paid into the United States Treasury; has general supervision of the fiscal transactions of the Government, the collection of revenue, the auditing and payment of accounts and other disbursements; supervises the execution of the laws relating to the commerce and navigation of the United States, the Revenues and Currency, the Coast Survey, the Mint and Coinage, the Light-House Establishment, the construction of Marine Hospitals, Custom-Houses, etc. The First Comptroller prescribes the mode of keeping and rendering accounts, for the civil and diplomatic service and the public land. To him the First, Fifth and Sixth Auditors report. The Second Comptroller prescribes the mode of keeping and rendering accounts for the Army, Navy, and Indian Department, and to him the Second, Third and Fourth Auditors report. The First Auditor adjusts the accounts of the customs, revenues, civil service and private accounts of Congress. The Second Auditor adjusts accounts relating to pay, clothing and recruiting of the army, the arsenals, armories and ordnance and the Indian Department. The Third Auditor adjusts accounts for army subsistence, fortifications, military academy and roads, quartermaster's department and military claims. The Fourth Auditor adjusts the navy accounts, the Fifth, diplomatic, and the Sixth, postal affairs.

Secretary of War.

POSTAL RATES AND REGULATIONS.

Domestic mail matter is divided into four classes:

First—Written matter.

Second—Periodical publications.

Third—Miscellaneous printed matter.

Fourth—Merchandise.

FIRST-CLASS MATTER embraces letters, postal cards, and all matter wholly or partly in writing and all matter sealed or closed against inspection, except as follows. 1. Corrected proof-sheets and manuscript copy accompanying the same. 2. Date and name of the addressed and of the sender of circulars, and the correction of mere typographical errors therein. 3. Bills, receipts and orders for subscription inclosed in second-class publications, provided such bills, receipts and orders shall be in such form as to convey no other information than the name, location, and subscription price of the publication or publications to which they refer. 4. The name and address of the person to whom second-class matter may be sent, and index figures of a subscription book, and words or figures, or both, indicating the date on which the subscription to such matter will end. 5. Upon matter of the third-class, or upon the wrapper inclosing the same, the sender may write his own name or address, with the word "from" above and preceding the same, and in either case, may make simple marks, intended to designate a word or passage of the text to which it is desired to call attention. 6. There may be placed upon the cover or blank leaves of any book, or of any printed matter of the third-class, a simple manuscript dedication or inscription; such dedication or inscription must be confined to a simple address or consignment of such book or other printed matter, as a mark of respect, and must not contain anything that partakes of the nature of a personal correspondence. 7. Upon matter of the fourth-class, the sender may write his own name and address preceded by the word "from" and also the number and names of the articles inclosed. He may also write upon or attach to any such articles, by tag or label, a mark or number, name or letter, for purpose of identification.

POSTAGE on first-class matter must be prepaid at the rate of two cents for each half ounce or fraction thereof; except that on "postal cards" the postage is one cent each. On "local" or "drop letters" postage is two cents per half ounce or fraction thereof, including delivery at letter-carrier offices, and one cent for each half ounce or fraction thereof, where free delivery by carrier is not established.

First-class matter, except postal cards or drop-letters, deposited in any post-office, wholly unpaid, or having only a one cent stamp affixed, will be "held for postage," and unless the postmaster is able to communicate the fact to the sender, the package must be sent to the Dead Letter Office. Should such wholly unpaid or insufficiently prepaid matter, through inadvertence, reach its destination, it is the duty of the delivering postmaster to collect on wholly unpaid matter double postage, and on insufficiently prepaid matter the ordinary letter rates, giving credit for the amount which may have been prepaid thereon.

Forwarding Letters Free.

Prepaid and free letters are forwarded from one post-office to another, at the request of the persons addressed, without additional postage. A letter which has once been delivered at its address can be remailed from the same office to which it was originally addressed to a new address without the prepayment of additional postage, if it has not been opened. Drop-letters, when forwarded by mail to another post-office, must be prepaid at 2 cents per half ounce. No mail matter, except letters or postal cards, can be forwarded to a new address except on prepayment of postage by stamps at regular rates.

Registration.

Mail matter of all kinds can be registered to any part of the United States and Territories and to foreign countries, on payment of a registration fee of 10 cents. All registration fees must be paid by stamps, and the postage on all registered matter must also be prepaid in full by stamps. The public are desired by the post-office never to send money or valuable articles in unregistered letters. Postmasters at all post-offices are obliged to register letters and packages when requested to do so.

SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

Regular publications—This class includes all newspapers, periodicals or matter exclusively in print and regularly issued at stated periods from a known office of publication or news agency, except regular publications designed primarily for advertising purposes, or for free circulation, or for circulation at nominal rates. When mailed by the publisher or a newsdealer the postage is two cents a pound or fraction thereof; when mailed by others than publishers and newsdealers, one cent for each four ounces or fraction thereof. Weight of packages not limited.

THIRD-CLASS MATTER.

Mail matter of the third class embraces printed books, circulars and other matter wholly in print, proof-sheets and corrected proof-sheets and manuscript copy accompanying the same, chromo-lithographs, engravings, heliotypes, lithographic views, with title written thereon, and reproductions from circulars or other matter produced by the electric pen, papyrograph, metallograph, hectograph, chirograph or copygraph process; and postage shall be paid thereon at the rate of one cent for each two ounces or fractional part thereof, except newspapers and other periodicals, the rate for which is one cent for each four ounces.

Upon matter of the third class, or upon the wrapper inclosing the same, the sender may write his own name or address, with the word "from" above and preceding the same, and in either case may make simple marks intended to designate a word or passage of the text to which it is desired to call attention. There may be placed upon the cover or blank leaves of any book or any printed or matter of the third class a simple manuscript dedication or inscription that does not partake of the nature of a personal correspondence.

The "nature of a personal correspondence" referred to in the preceding section cannot be ascribed to the following, viz.: 1st. To the signature of the sender or to the designation of his name, of his profession, of his rank or place of origin, and of the date of dispatch. 2d. To a dedication or mark of respect offered by the sender. 3d. To the figures or signs merely intended to mark the passage or a text in order to call attention to them. 4th. To instructions or requests to postmasters to notify the sender in case of the non-delivery of matter, so that he may send postage for its return. Lastly, to annotations or corrections made upon proofs of printing or musical compositions, and relating to the text or to the execution of the work.

All packages of matter of the third class must be so wrapped, with open sides or ends, that their contents may be readily examined by postmasters.

The limit of weight of packages is four pounds, except in cases of single volumes of books in excess of said weight, and books and documents published or circulated by order of Congress, or official matter emanating from any of the departments of the government or from the Smithsonian Institution.

FOURTH-CLASS MATTER.

Mailable matter of the fourth class embraces blank cards, card-board and other flexible material, flexible patterns, letter envelopes and letter paper without printing thereon, merchandise, models, ornamented paper, sample cards, samples of ores, metals, minerals, seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots, scions, printed envelopes, original paintings in oil or water colors, labels, patterns, photographs, playing cards, visiting cards, address tags, paper sacks, wrapping paper with printed advertisements thereon, bill-heads, letter-heads, envelopes and matter of the same general character, and any other matter not included in the first, second or third classes, and which is not in its form or nature liable to destroy, deface or otherwise damage the contents of the mail bag, or harm the person of any one engaged in the postal service. Postage rate thereon, one cent for each ounce or fractional part thereof.

Other articles of the fourth class, which, unless properly secured, might destroy, deface or otherwise damage the contents of the mail bag, or harm the person of any one engaged in the postal service, may be transmitted in the mails when they conform to the following conditions: 1st. They must be placed in a bag, box or removable envelope made of paper, cloth or parchment, 2d. Such bag, box or envelope must again be placed in a box or tube made of metal or some hard wood, with sliding, clasp or screw lid. 3d. In case of articles liable to break, the inside box, bag or envelope must be surrounded by sawdust, cotton or spongy substance. 4th. In case of sharp-pointed instruments, the points must be capped or encased, so that they may not by any means be liable to cut through their inclosure; and where they have blades, such blades must be bound with wire so that they shall remain firmly attached to each other. 5th. The whole must be capable of easy inspection. Seeds or other articles not prohibited which are liable from their form or nature to loss or damage, unless specially protected, may be put up in sealed envelopes, provided such envelopes are made of material sufficiently transparent to show the contents clearly without opening.

Upon any package of matter of the fourth class the sender may write or print his own name and address, preceded by the word "from," and there may also be written or printed the number and names of the articles inclosed; and the sender thereof may write or print upon, or attach to any such article, by tag or label, a mark, number, name or letter for purpose of identification.

The limit of weight of packages is four pounds.

UNMAILABLE.

Liquids, poison, explosives and inflammable articles, fatty substances easily liquifiable, live or dead animals (not stuffed), insects and reptiles, except queen-bees when safely secured, fruits or vegetable matter, pastes or confections, and substances exhaling a bad odor; and every letter upon the envelope of which, or postal card upon which, indecent, lewd, obscene, or lascivious delineations, epithets, terms or language may be written or printed, and all matter concerning lotteries, so-called gift concerts, or other similar enterprises, offering prizes, or concerning schemes devised and intended to defraud the public, or for the purpose of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Postal Cards

may be procured at any post-office, at a cost of one cent each. The message, etc., must be always written on the back of the card. Nothing whatever must be attached to the card. Postal cards will be forwarded from one office to another in case of removal of the person addressed, but will in no case be returned to the writer, nor advertised.

Money Orders.

Money orders are obtainable at all the principal post-offices in the United States, for any amount, from $5 to $100, inclusive.

Money-orders are payable only at money-order offices, and to secure payment thereof, the person to whom they are payable must be able to state the name and address of the sender. If the following precautions are taken, the risk of payment to any but the right person will be avoided, besides delay and trouble in obtaining payment:

1st. In obtaining an order be careful to state the given name as well as the surname of the person in whose favor it is drawn.

2d. Furnish that person with the correct name and address of the sender.

3d. Do not send the order in the same letter with the information.

Fees for issuing money orders—For sums over $5 and not exceeding $10, 8 cents; over $10 and not exceeding $15, 10 cents; over $15 and not exceeding $30, 15 cents; over $30 and not exceeding $40, 20 cents; over $40 and not exceeding $50, 25 cents; over $50 and not exceeding $60, 30 cents; over $60 and not exceeding $70, 35 cents; over $70 and not exceeding $80, 40 cents; over $80 and not exceeding $100, 45 cents.

Under the new law provision is made for the sending of sums less than $5, by means of Postal Notes.

Postal notes are issued at money-order offices and made payable to bearer, when duly receipted, at any money-order office which the remitter may select, and the fee for issuing them is three cents. If not presented and paid before the expiration of three calendar months from the last day of the month in which they are issued, they will then be invalid.

To obtain the amount of an invalid note the holder must forward it to the superintendent of the money-order system, Washington, D. C., with an application for duplicate, in the manner prescribed by the Postmaster-General. An additional fee of three cents is charged for a duplicate. For form apply at post-office.

Foreign Money Orders.

At the principal money-order post-offices in the United States (including all the larger post-offices), money-orders, payable at money-order post-offices in Great Britain, Ireland and Switzerland, may be procured at the following rates: On orders not exceeding $10, 25 cents; over $10 and not exceeding $20, 50 cents; over $20 and not exceeding $30, 75 cents; over $30 and not exceeding $40, $1; over $40 and not exceeding $50, $1.25. Orders can also be obtained on Germany at the following rates: On orders not exceeding $5, 15 cents; over $5 and not exceeding $10, 25 cents; over $10 and not exceeding $20, 50 cents; over $20 and not exceeding $30, 75 cents; over $30 and not exceeding $40, $1; over $40 and not exceeding $50, $1.25.

Foreign Postage.

To all foreign countries and colonies of the universal postal union, except in a few cases where special regulations apply, the postage is as follows: Letters, five cents each half ounce or fraction; double that rate if not prepaid, no limit to weight. Postal cards two cents each, newspapers and other printed matter, commercial documents and samples of merchandise, one cent each two ounces or fraction; packages of printed matter and samples weighing two ounces or less, one cent additional, and documents weighing ten ounces or less, five cents. Printed matter and documents are limited to four pounds six ounces in weight, and two feet by one foot by one foot in size, and samples of merchandise to eight and three-quarter ounces in weight, and eight inches by four inches by two inches in size. All transmissible matter, fully prepaid, may be registered at a cost of ten cents. It is forbidden to send in the mails to foreign countries: Letters or packages of declared value, or that contain articles made of gold or silver, or articles of merchandise intended as gifts, or having a salable value, or liable to customs duty, packages exceeding the limit in size or weight, or which are not prepaid, at least partly, and all excluded from United States mails. If matter is insufficiently prepaid, double rates will be charged at destination.

XLVIIITH CONGRESS.

The Constitution requires nine years' citizenship to qualify for admission to the Senate, and seven years to the House of Representatives. An act approved July 26, 1866, requires the Legislature of each State, which shall be chosen next preceding the expiration of any Senatorial term, on the second Tuesday after its first meeting, to elect a successor, each House nominating viva voce, and then convening in joint Assembly to compare nominations. In case of agreement, such person shall be declared duly elected; and if they do not agree, then balloting to continue from day to day, at 12 m., during the session, until choice has been made. Vacancies are to be filled in like manner. The members of each House receive a salary of $5,000 per annum, and mileage at the rate of twenty cents per mile. For each day's absence, except when caused by sickness, $3 per diem is deducted from the salary. The President pro tem. of the Senate receives the same compensation as the Vice-President. The Speaker of the House of Representatives receives a salary of $8,000.

ABSTRACTS OF PUBLIC ACTS.

PASSED BY THE FORTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS, FIRST SESSION.

COUNTERFEITING FOREIGN SECURITIES, ETC.

That every person who, within the United States or any Territory thereof, with intent to defraud, falsely makes, alters, forges, or counterfeits any bond, certificate, obligation, or other security in imitation of, or purporting to be in imitation of, any bond, certificate, obligation, or other security of any foreign government, issued or put forth under the authority of such foreign government, or any treasury note, bill, or promise to pay issued by such foreign government, and intended to circulate as money, either by law, order or decree of such foreign government, and any person who causes or procures to be so falsely made, altered, forged, or counterfeited, or who knowingly aids or assists in making, altering, forging, or counterfeiting, any such bond, certificate, obligation, or other security, or any such treasury note, bill, or promise to pay, intended as aforesaid to circulate as money, shall, upon conviction thereof in any circuit or district court of the United States, be punished by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars and by imprisonment at hard labor not more than five years.

Penalties are also prescribed for uttering or passing such forged or counterfeit paper, and also for forging or counterfeiting foreign bank notes or bills, or passing the same, and also for having in possession any plates of counterfeit securities, notes, etc. (Approved May 16, 1884.)

GOVERNMENT OF ALASKA.

Constitutes the territory known as Alaska into a civil and judicial district, with the temporary seat of government at Sitka, and provides for the appointment of a Governor, and the establishment of a district court, with civil and criminal jurisdiction, for which a judge, attorney, marshal, four deputy marshals, clerk and interpreters shall be appointed. Four commissioners, with the powers of commissioners of U. S. circuit courts, are to be appointed. The act also provides for the location of a land office at Sitka. There is to be no legislative assembly, and no delegate is to be sent to Congress from the district. The officers provided for are appointed by the President, and hold office four years. (Approved May 17, 1884.)

COTTON EXPOSITION.

Appropriates one million dollars as a loan to the World's Industrial and Cotton Centennial Exposition, to be used and employed by the board of management thereof to augment and enhance the success of the World's Industrial and Cotton Centennial Exposition in such manner as said board of management may determine and in accordance with the provisions of the act. (Approved May 21, 1884.)

BUREAU OF ANIMAL INDUSTRY.

Authorizes the Commissioner of Agriculture to organize in his department a Bureau of Animal Industry, and shall appoint a chief thereof, who shall be a competent veterinary surgeon, and whose duty it shall be to investigate and report upon the condition of the domestic animals of the United States, their protection and use, and also inquire into and report the causes of contagious, infectious, and communicable diseases among them, and the means for the prevention and cure of the same, and to collect such information on these subjects as shall be valuable to the agricultural and commercial interests of the country; and to employ a force sufficient for the purpose, not to exceed twenty persons at any one time.

The Commissioner of Agriculture is to report annually to Congress, at the commencement of each session a list of the names of all persons employed, an itemized statement of all expenditures, and full particulars of the means adopted and carried into effect for the suppression of contagious, infectious, or communicable diseases among domestic animals. (Approved May 29, 1884.)

POSTAL RATES.

That the rate of postage on newspaper and periodical publications of the second class, when sent by others than the publisher or news agent, shall be one cent for each four ounces or fractional part thereof, and shall be fully prepaid by postage-stamps affixed to said matter. (Approved June 9, 1884.)

LABOR BUREAU.

That there shall be established in the Department of the Interior a Bureau of Labor, which shall be under the charge of a Commissioner of Labor appointed by the President and Senate, to hold his office for four years, at a salary of $3,000 a year. The Commissioner shall collect information on the subject of labor, its relation to capital, the hours of labor, and the earnings of laboring men and women, and the means of promoting their material, social, intellectual and moral prosperity. The Secretary of the Interior, upon the recommendation of said Commissioner, shall appoint a chief clerk, who shall receive a salary of $2,000 per annum, and such other employees as may be necessary for the said Bureau. Provided, That the total expense shall not exceed $25,000 per annum. The Commissioner shall annually make a report in writing to the Secretary of the Interior of the information collected and collated by him, and containing such recommendations as he may deem calculated to promote the efficiency of the bureau. (Approved June 27, 1884.)

INDIANS.

That such Indians as may now be located on public lands, or as may, under the direction of the Secretary of the Interior, or otherwise, hereafter, so locate may avail themselves of the provisions of the homestead laws as fully and to the same extent as may now be done by citizens of the United States; and to aid such Indians in making selections of homesteads and the necessary proofs at the proper land offices, $1,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated; but no fees or commissions shall be charged on account of said entries or proofs. All patents therefor shall be of the legal effect, and declare that the United States does and will hold the land thus entered for the period of twenty-five years, in trust for the sole use and benefit of the Indian by whom such entry shall have been made, or, in case of his decease, of his widow and heirs according to the laws of the State or Territory where such land is located, and that at the expiration of said period the United States will convey the same by patent to said Indian, or his widow and heirs as aforesaid, in fee, discharged of said trust and free of all charge or incumbrance whatsoever. (Indian Appropriation Act.)

SOLDIERS CHARGED WITH DESERTION.

That the charge of desertion now standing against any soldier who served in the late war in the volunteer service shall be removed in all cases where it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the Secretary of War, that any such soldier served faithfully until the expiration of his term of enlistment, or until the first day of May, 1865, having previously served six months or more, or was prevented from completing his term of service by reason of wounds received or disease contracted in the line of duty, but who, by reason of absence from his command at the time the same was mustered out, failed to be mustered out and to receive an honorable discharge. Provided, That no soldier shall be relieved under this section who, not being sick or wounded, left his command without proper authority whilst the same was in the presence of the enemy.

The Secretary of War is authorized to remove the charge of desertion from the records in the following cases:

First. That such soldier, after such charge of desertion was made, and within a reasonable time thereafter, voluntarily returned to his command and served faithfully to the end of his term of service.

Second. That such soldier absented himself without proper authority from hospital, or from furlough given from hospital, while suffering from wounds, injuries or disease received or contracted in the service in the line of duty, and, on recovery, voluntarily returned to his command and served faithfully until discharged, or died from such wounds, injury or disease while so absent and before the date of the muster out of his command.

Third. That such soldier absented himself without proper authority from furlough given by proper authority, and while so absent died from wounds, injury or disease received or contracted in the service in the line of duty before the muster out of his command.

OFFICIAL MAIL MATTER.

"The provisions of the fifth and sixth sections of the act establishing post-routes, and for other purposes, for the transmission of official mail-matter, are extended to all officers of the United States Government, not including members of Congress, the envelopes of such matter in all cases to bear appropriate indorsements containing the proper designation of the office from which or officer from whom the same is transmitted, with a statement of the penalty for their misuse. Provisions are likewise made applicable to all official mail matter of the Smithsonian Institution. Provided, That any Department or officer authorized to use the penalty envelopes may inclose them with return address to any person or persons from or through whom official information is desired, the same to be used only to cover such official information; Provided, further, That any letter or packet to be registered by either of the Executive Departments, or Bureaus thereof, or by the Agricultural Department, or by the Public Printer, may be registered without the payment of any registry fee; and any part-paid letter or packet addressed to either of said departments or bureaus may be delivered free; but where there is good reason to believe the omission to prepay the full postage thereon was intentional, such letter or packet shall be returned to the sender; Provided, further, That this act shall not extend or apply to pension agents or other officers who receive a fixed allowance as compensation for their services, including expenses of postage. (Approved July 5, 1884.)

WASHINGTON MONUMENT.

Creates a commission to consist of five Senators appointed by the President of the Senate, eight Representatives appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, three members of the Washington Monument Society, and the United States engineer in charge of the work, with full powers to make arrangements for —

First. The dedication of the monument to the name and memory of George Washington, by the President of the United States, with appropriate ceremonies.

Second. A procession from the monument to the Capitol, escorted by regular and volunteer corps, the Washington Monument Society, representatives of cities, States and organizations which have contributed blocks of stone, and such bodies of citizens as may desire to appear.

Third. An oration in the hall of the House of Representatives, on the 22d day of February, 1885, by the Hon. Robert C. Winthrop, who delivered the oration at the laying of the corner-stone of the monument in 1848, with music by the Marine Band.

Fourth. Salutes of one hundred guns from the navy yard, the artillery headquarters, and such men-of-war as can be anchored in the Potomac. (Approved May 13, 1884.)

PUBLIC ROADS POST-ROUTES.

That all public roads and highways, while kept up and maintained as such, are hereby declared to be post-routes. (Approved March 1, 1884.)

CONSULAR FEES.

No Consular officer shall hereafter appropriate to his own use, or expend from the amount received from the fees of his office any sum in excess of the allowance of salary and fees authorized by law; and Consular officers paid exclusively by fees, and Consuls paid in part by salary and in part by fees, shall only appropriate to their own use or expend such portion of the fees as is authorized by law. (Approved July 7, 1884.)

INTERNAL REVENUE.

No person shall be prosecuted for any offense under the internal revenue laws unless the indictment is found or the information instituted within three years after the commission of the offense, in all cases where the penalty may be imprisonment in the penitentiary, and within two years in all other cases; Provided, That the time during which the person committed the offense is absent from the district wherein the same is committed shall not be taken as any part of the time limited by law for the commencement of such proceedings; Provided, further. That the provisions of this act shall not apply to offenses committed prior to its passage; and provided further, That where a complaint shall be instituted before a Commissioner of the United States within the period above limited, the time shall be extended until the discharge of the grand jury at its next session within the district; And provided further, That this act shall not apply to offenses committed by officers of the United States. (Approved July 5, 1884.)

No collector in any district shall recommend, nor shall there be appointed or commissioned, more deputy collectors, storekeepers, storekeepers and gaugers, gaugers, inspectors, or other officers, or allowed to remain in commission more of any of said officers, at any one time, than fifteen per centum in excess of the number actually engaged in performing duty at the time, and indispensably necessary for the performance of said duty. And hereafter there shall not be employed exceeding twenty agents, in lieu of the number now authorized by law. (Approved July 7, 1884.)

CHINESE LABORERS, SUPPLEMENTARY ACT.

The principal changes made in the act of 1882, are: The words "from any foreign port or place" are inserted in the first section prohibiting the coming of the Chinese. The second change prohibits masters of vessels from landing, or attempting to land, or permitting to be landed, any Chinese laborer. In section three, these words are also added: "Provided, That all Chinese laborers brought on such vessel shall not be permitted to land except in case of absolute necessity." The next change is that the certificate upon which the Chinese laborer should return shall state the "individual, family, and tribal name" of the bearer. Chinese, other than laborers, authorized to come to the United States under the treaty shall obtain permission of, and be identified as so entitled by, the Chinese Government, or such other foreign government of which he may be a subject, and shall have a certificate setting forth name, age, rank, height, physical peculiarities, etc. This act shall apply to all subjects of China, and Chinese, whether subjects of China or any other foreign power. (Approved July 5, 1884.)

VOLUNTEER ARMY.

Provides for the establishing a branch of the Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers in either Arkansas, Colorado, Kansas, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, or Nebraska, on a tract of land not less than three hundred acres. (Approved July 5, 1884.)

Construes section 4 of the Army Appropriation Act of March 3, 1865, so as to entitle to the three months' pay proper provided for therein, the heirs or legal representatives of volunteers specified therein, who were killed, or who died in the service between March 3 and April 10, 1865. (Approved July 3, 1884.)

PENSIONS.

After July 1, 1884, pension agents shall not receive over twelve dollars and fifty cents for each one hundred vouchers paid by any agent in excess of four thousand vouchers per annum. The act of June 20, 1878, relating to claim agents and attorneys in pension cases, is repealed. That sections 4,768, 4,769 and 4,786 of Revised Statutes are made applicable to cases hereafter filed with the Commissioner of Pensions, and cases so filed since June 20, 1878, and which have not been heretofore allowed, except as hereinafter provided. The fees of attorneys or others for prosecuting pension or bounty land claims are limited to twenty-five dollars, to be paid after the allowance of the claim. Articles of agreement as to fees between claimants and attorneys are to be filed with the Commissioner of Pensions, and where not filed the fee shall not exceed ten dollars. Where undue advantage has been taken of claimants by attorneys, the Commissioner has power to refuse to recognize any contract for fees.— [Approved July 4, 1884.]

The local option feature of the Scott liquor law, which gave to residents of incorporated villages the right by vote to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquor, was repealed by the Legislature of 1884. October 28, a majority of the Supreme Court—Judges Okey, Follett and Owens—with Judges Johnson and McIlvaine dissenting—decided that this law so

Justices of the Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court consists of forty-six Justices. The State is divided into eight judicial districts. The first district elects seven Justices; the second, fifth, seventh and eighth districts each elect six Justices and the third, fourth and sixth districts each elect five Justices. Elections for Justices of the Supreme Court are held every alternate odd year. As fast as the terms of Justices expire, elections take place for term of fourteen years. For General Term purposes, the State is divided into five Judicial Department. The Governor designates the Justices to hold the General Terms. In each department there is a President Justice, who holds office during the term for which he was elected to the bench, and two associates, who hold office for five years, unless the terms for which they were elected sooner expire. The Justices receive a salary of $6,000 per annum, and an annual allowance for expenses.

GENERAL TERMS OF THE SUPREME COURT FOR 1885.

Chapter 408 of the Session Laws of 1870 divides the State into four Judicial Departments. In pursuance of chapter 766, Laws of 1871, as amended by chapter 778, Laws of 1872, the justices appointed to hold general terms in the several departments have designated the following times and places for holding the same:

First Department — On the first Mondays of January, March, May and October, at the Court House in the city of New York.

Second Department — On the second Monday of February, at the Court House in Kings county; on the second Monday of May, at the Court House in Poughkeepsie; on the second Monday of September, at the Court House in Kings county; on the second Monday of December, at the Court House in Kings county.

Third Department — On the fourth Tuesday in January, in the city of Albany; on the first Tuesday in May, at the City Hall in Albany; on the second Tuesday in September, at the Town Hall in Saratoga Springs; on the third Tuesday in November, in the city of Albany.

Fourth Department — At the Court House in Syracuse on the second Tuesday in January; at the Court House in Utica on the third Tuesday in April; at the Court House in Binghamton on the third Tuesday in September; at the Court House in Syracuse on the second Tuesday in November.

Fifth Department — First Tuesday in January at the Court House in Buffalo; on the last Tuesday in March in Rochester; on the first Tuesday in June at Buffalo; on the first Tuesday in October at Rochester.

Chapter 329, Laws of 1883, divides the State into five judicial departments. In the new division the first judicial district constitutes the first department, the second judicial district the second department, the third and fourth districts the third department, the fifth and sixth districts the fourth department, and the seventh and eighth districts the fifth department.

Special Terms and Circuits remain, and are to be held according to existing appointments, which will be found on calendar pages.

(Counties of Cayuga, Seneca, Tioga and Tompkins. Population, 153,171.)

EDWARD S. ESTY (Rep.), of Ithaca, Tompkins county. Mr. E. was born at Ithaca, July 17, 1824. His paternal grandmother was Sally Winslow Williams, a direct descendant of Pilgrim ancestry. His paternal grandfather came from the Estys of Salem, Mass. His mother was of Holland descent and came from New Brunswick, N. J. He was educated in the academy and schools at Ithaca. Beside being engaged in farming, he is a member of the firm of E. S. Esty & Sons, operating extensive tanneries at Ithaca, and is Vice-President of the First National Bank of Ithaca, of which he was one of the original incorporators. He has been for several years a trustee of the Cornell Library, has been President of the Ithaca Board of Education since the establishment of the present graded school system, and the recent erection of a high school edifice at a cost of $50,000 was mainly at his suggestion. He was also a trustee and treasurer of the old Ithaca Academy, and was the first chief engineer of the Ithaca fire department in its present form, and framed the laws by which it is governed. In politics he was formerly an old line Whig, but he has been a Republican since the party was organized. He was a member of the Assembly in 1858, to which he was elected on a local issue arising out of the flooding of the village of Ithaca by the aqueduct bridges at the outlet of Cayuga lake, and he succeeded in securing the passage of an act stipulating on the part of the State that the water of the lakes should be raised no higher by reason of any public works across the outlet, and providing for an appropriation of $30,000 for that purpose, which sum was squandered, however, in unbalanced bids. This was the only appropriation the year which passed both houses without a dissenting vote. In that Assembly Mr. Esty incurred the ill will of the Speaker, and his only committee designation was on the Committee on Grievance, but during the session he was placed on some select committees, among which was the committee to investigate the affairs of the Commissioners of Emigration, which held over and reported to the next legislature. He was elected to the Senate by a plurality of 1,590, his opponents being Josiah T. Mills (Dem.) and Thomas Jones (Gr.) The Republican plurality in 1881 was 4,270.

Population, in 1865, 31,923; in 1875, 41,879.

JONAS SAYRE VAN DUZER (Rep.), of Horseheads. Mr. V. was born in Horseheads December 2, 1846. His ancestors were among the earliest settlers of Chemung county; his maternal grandfather, James Sayre, came to this country in 1790, with his parents, when the site of the city of Elmira was occupied by Indians; his father's family left Orange county fifty years later. He was educated in the public schools; attended Alfred University three years from 1862 to 1866, when he entered Amherst College, but did not graduate, leaving college in 1867 to accept a position in a wholesale drug house in New York city; but in 1869 he left the city and commenced farming. He started a cheese factory in connection with dairy farming, and prosecuted an extensive business. He also occasionally contributed to agricultural papers. In 1874 he became connected with the "Husbandman," an influential agricultural journal, published at Elmira, N. Y., of which he was business manager and editor for four years and a half, when he severed his connection with it. In 1875, together with a younger brother, he bought his father's farm, and has since been engaged in farming. He is now a member of the local Board of Health and Secretary of the Horseheads Board of Trade, and in these positions he performed valuable service in building up the business interests of Horseheads. He is also Secretary of the Chemung County Agricultural Society. He has always been a Republican, and cast his first vote for General Grant for President, although his father was a follower of Andrew Johnson. In 1872 he was elected School Commissioner, serving until 1875, being the only Republican elected to that office since 1866. In 1881 he was appointed to fill out the unexpired term of Commissioner Hathaway, deceased. He was a member of the last House, serving on the Committees on Villages, Roads and Bridges and Militia; and was re-elected by a plurality of 208, his opponents being Robert P. Bush (Dem.) Franklin Ball (Pro.) and James E. Farr (Gr.) His plurality in 1883 was 976. Mr. V. is the first Republican Assemblyman elected in the district since 1872. The canvass last fall was very hotly contested, the Democrats doing their best to defeat Mr. Van Duzer.

Chenango County.

Population, in 1865, 38,360; in 1875, 39,937.

GEORGE B. WHITMORE (Rep.), of Sherburne. Mr. W. was born in the town of Columbus, Chenango county, June 29, 1835; his father was a farmer, and his early life, up to the age of eighteen, was passed upon the farm; he was educated in the district school, and at New Berlin Academy, and was licensed as a teacher; he subsequently learned the trade of carpenter and joiner, and continued in that business several years with more than ordinary success, giving employment to many other mechanics. Many of the best dwelling-houses in the section where he resided are evidences of his skill as an architect and builder. Circumstances led him to relinquish his trade, and to embark in the wholesale produce business and other commercial transactions, at New Berlin, N. Y., several years, very successfully. Subsequently he was offered a partnership in a wholesale produce house in New York city, which he accepted. Owing to his energy and management the business of the new firm was greatly enlarged, and at the end of five years he bought his partner's interest, since which time he has been sole proprietor, and at the present date, after the lapse of sixteen years as commission merchant, there are but few more extensive or more prosperous wholesale produce houses in the city of New York than that of Mr. Whitmore. Mr. Whitmore is a brother of Hon. D. E. Whitmore, who was member of Assembly in 1875, from Cortland county, and is cousin of General Stoneman, Governor of California. He was elected to the Assembly by a plurality of 1,130, running 73 ahead of the Republican electors, his opponents being Charles W. Brown (Dem.), who was elected to the last House by a plurality of 64, Sylvester Hunt (Gr.) and H. A. Delano (Pro.)

McNought, Hobart; subsequently graduated from the College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York city, and has since practiced medicine, though he taught school one term. He was formerly a Whig, but has been a Republican since that party was formed, except in 1872, when he supported the liberal ticket. He was Postmaster of Roxbury from 1864 until 1871, and was a Commissioner of the U. S. Deposit Fund from 1865 until 1870. He served in the war of the rebellion as 1st Assistant Surgeon, 134th N. Y. S. Vols., about four months during 1862, when he resigned on account of physical disability. He was a member of the last House, serving as Chairman of the Committee on Public Health and member of Education and Grievances, and was re-elected by a plurality of 500, his opponents being James R. Baumes (Dem.) and Wm. M. Howie (Pro.) His majority in 1883, over the same Democratic opponent, was 33. In the last House he was active in securing the passage of the bills to prevent frauds in dairy products and creating a State Board of Pharmacy.

21st DISTRICT. (Within East and West 40th streets, Lexington avenue, East 86th street, Transverse road across Central Park, 8th avenue, West 59th street, and 7th avenue.) HENRY A. BARNUM (Rep.), of New York city (26 Broad street). Mr. B. was born in Jamesville, Onondaga county, N. Y., September 24, 1833, and was educated in the Syracuse public schools and Syracuse Institute, becoming a tutor in the Syracuse Institute in 1856. Subsequently he studied law, was admitted to the bar, and now practices his profession. In April, 1861, he enlisted as a private soldier and served through the entire war, attaining the rank of Brigadier-General and Brevet Major-General. Entering Co. I, 12th Regiment, he was elected its Captain and proceeded to the front with his regiment, which was the first to leave the Elmira rendezvous, and the first under fire at Blackburn's ford in the fighting preliminary to the first battle of Bull Run. In October, 1861, he was promoted to be Major of his regiment, and in the following spring he was, on his own request, assigned to the staff of Gen. Wadsworth. When that officer became Military Governor of Washington, Major Barnum was relieved at his own request, and rejoined his regiment, serving through the Peninsular campaign and the Seven Days' battles, being detailed to the staff of Gen. Butterfield at Malvern Hill. In that action Major Barnum was almost constantly under fire, and at one time, being between the hostile lines, he was shot through the body and left for dead on the field. A corpse was picked up and buried as his, and a funeral oration was pronounced at his home in Syracuse. Major Barnum was found next day, however, by the rebel troops and was taken to Libby prison as a prisoner of war, suffering terribly meantime with his wound. July 18th he was exchanged and a few days later reached home. In December following, though still feeble from his unhealed wound, he returned to the front and took command of the 149th Regiment, having been commissioned Colonel, and as such participated in the battle of Gettysburg. Subsequently he was transferred to Tennessee and commanded his regiment at Lookout Mountain when he was wounded in the right arm. His command took five of the eleven battle flags captured in that vicinity. At this time an abscess developed in his old wound, and returning to New York Dr. Sayre operated upon it, passing an oakum rope entirely through the body, following the track of the ball. He has ever since worn a seton through the body, the same being a perforated rubber tube. He soon rejoined the troops and participated in the Atlanta campaign, during which he was again wounded, given command of a brigade, went with Sherman on the march to the sea, was the first officer to enter the city of Savannah, and was at the head of his brigade in the great review at the close of the war at Washington. On the muster out of his veteran brigade in May, 1865, he was placed in command of a provisional brigade at Washington, and soon after ordered on duty under Gen. Hooker at New York. Later he succeeded Gen. Sickles in command of the District of Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont, with headquarters in Boston. While holding this command he was, in November, 1865, elected Inspector of Prisons in this State. He was also offered the Colonelcy of one of the new regiments of the regular army, but he resigned his commission and entered upon the discharge of the duties of the office to which he had been elected. The acceptance of his resignation dates January 9, 1866. Before the disbandment of the armies he was commissioned full Brigadier-General of volunteers and brevetted Major-General "for distinguished and gallant conduct." He served as Inspector of Prisons three years and was unanimously renominated by the Republican State Convention in 1868. He was Deputy Tax Commissioner of New York from 1869 to 1872, and for five years was Harbor Master of the Port of New York. He was elected to the Assembly by a majority of 1,224 over Charles P. Kearney (Dem.) The district has been represented for the last three years by Hon. Theodore Roosevelt (Rep.), whose majority in 1883 was 1,338.

NATIONAL CONVENTIONS OF 1884.

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION.

Held at Chicago, June 3.

Called to order by Dwight M. Sabin, of Minnesota. John R. Lynch, colored, of Mississippi, was chosen temporary President. John B. Henderson, of Missouri, was elected permanent President. The following candidates for the Presidential nomination were presented to the Convention:

JOSEPH R. HAWLEY, of Connecticut, by Augustus Brandegee, of Connecticut.

JOHN A. LOGAN, of Illinois, by Shelby M. Cullom, of Illinois.

JAMES G. BLAINE, of Maine, by William H. West, of Ohio.

CHESTER A. ARTHUR, of New York, by Martin I. Townsend of New York.

JOHN SHERMAN, of Ohio, by J. B. Foraker, of Ohio.

GEORGE F. EDMUNDS, of Vermont, by John D. Long, of Massachusetts.

On the third day, the balloting for a choice took place. The following was the result:

	1st.	2d.	3d.	4th.
Blaine.....	334½	349	375	540
Arthur.....	278	276	274	207
Edmunds.....	93	85	69	41
Logan.....	63½	61	53	7
Sherman.....	30	23	25	...
Hawley.....	13	13	13	15
Lincoln.....	4	4	8	2
W. T. Sherman.....	2	2	2	...

Mr. Blaine was declared the nominee, and it was subsequently made unanimous. After the third ballots, Logan and John Sherman were withdrawn.

John A. Logan was nominated for Vice-President.

William McKinley, of Ohio, chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, reported the following platform, which was adopted unanimously:

Platform.

The Republicans of the United States, in convention assembled, renew their allegiance to the principles upon which they have triumphed in six successive Presidential elections, and congratulate the American people on the attainment of so many results in legislation and administration by which the Republican party has, after saving the Union, done so much to render its institutions just, equal and beneficent—the safeguard of liberty, and the embodiment of the best thought and highest purposes of our citizens. The Republican party has gained its strength by quick and faithful response to the demands of the people for the freedom and the equality of all men; for a united nation, assuring the rights of all citizens; for the elevation of labor; for an honest currency; for purity in legislation, and for integrity and accountability in all departments of the Government, and it accepts anew the duty of leading in the work of progress and reform. We lament the death of President Garfield, whose sound statesmanship, long conspicuous in Congress, gave promise of a strong and successful administration—a promise fully realized during the short period of his office as president of the United States. His distinguished success in war and in peace has endeared him to the hearts of the American people. In the administration of President Arthur we recognize a wise, conservative and patriotic policy, under which the country has been blessed with remarkable prosperity, and we believe his eminent services are entitled to, and will receive, the hearty approval of every citizen.

It is the first duty of a good government to protect the rights and promote the interests of its own people; the largest diversity of industry is most productive of general prosperity and of the comfort and independence of the people.

We therefore demand that the imposition of duties on foreign imports shall be made not for "revenue only," but that, in raising the requisite revenues for the Government, such duties shall be so levied as to afford security to our diversified industries, and protection to the rights and wages of the laborer, to the end that active and intelligent labor, as well as capital, may have its just award, and the laboring man his full share in the national prosperity. Against the so-called economical system of the Democratic party, which would degrade our labor to the foreign standard, we enter our earnest protest. The Democratic party has failed completely to relieve the people of the burden of unnecessary taxation by a wise reduction of the surplus.

The Republican party pledges itself to correct the inequalities of the tariff, and to reduce the surplus, not by the vicious and indiscriminate process of horizontal reduction, but by such methods as will relieve the tax-payer without injuring the laborer or the great productive interests of the country.

We recognize the importance of sheep-husbandry in the United States, the serious depression which it is now experiencing, and the danger threatening its future prosperity, and we therefore respect the demands of the representatives of this important agricultural interest for a readjustment of duty upon foreign wool, in order that such industry shall have full and adequate protection.

We have always recommended the best money known to the civilized world, and we urge that an effort be made to unite all commercial nations in the establishment of the international standard, which shall fix for all the relative value of gold and silver coinage.

The regulation of commerce with foreign nations and between the States is one of the most important prerogatives of the General Government, and the Republican party distinctly announces its purpose to support such legislation as will fully and efficiently carry out the Constitutional power of Congress over inter-State commerce. The principle of the public regulation of railway corporations is a wise and salutary one for the protection of all classes of the people, and we favor legislation that shall prevent unjust discrimination and excessive charges for transportation, and that shall secure to the people and to the railways alike the fair and equal protection of the laws. We favor the establishment of a national bureau of labor, the enforcement of the eight-hour law, a wise and judicious system of general education by adequate appropriation from the national revenues wherever the same is needed. We believe that everywhere the protection to a citizen of American birth must be secured to the citizens by American adoption, and we favor the settlement of national differences by international arbitration.

The Republican party, having its birth in a hatred of slave labor, and in a desire that all men may be free and equal, is unalterably opposed to placing our workingmen in competition with any form of servile labor, whether at home or abroad. In this spirit we denounce the importation of contract labor, whether from Europe or Asia, as an offense against the spirit of American institutions, and we pledge ourselves to sustain the present law restricting Chinese immigration, and to provide such further legislation as is necessary to carry out its purposes.

The reform of the civil service, auspiciously begun under Republican administration, should be completed by the further extension of the reform system already established by law, to all the grades of the service to which it is applicable. The spirit and purpose of the reform should be observed in all executive appointments, and all laws at variance with the objects of existing reform legislation should be repealed, to the end that the dangers to free institutions which lurk in the power of official patronage may be wisely and effectually avoided.

The public lands are a heritage of the people of the United States, and should be reserved as far as possible for small holdings by actual settlers. We are opposed to the acquisition of large tracts of these lands by corporations or individuals, especially where such holdings are in the hands of non-resident aliens, and we will endeavor to obtain such legislation as will tend to correct this evil.

We demand of Congress the speedy forfeiture of all land grants which have lapsed by reason of non-compliance with acts of incorporation, in all cases where there has been no attempt in good faith to perform the conditions of such grants.

The grateful thanks of the American people are due to the Union soldiers and sailors of the late war, and the Republican party stands pledged to suitable pensions to all who were disabled, and for the widows and orphans of those who died, in the war. The Republican party pledges itself to the repeal of the limitation contained in the arrears act of 1879, so that all invalid soldiers shall share alike, and their pensions shall begin with the date of disability or discharge, and not with the date of the application.

The Republican party favors a policy which shall keep us from entangling alliances with foreign nations, and which shall give the right to expect that foreign nations shall refrain from meddling in America—the policy which seeks peace and can trade with all powers, but especially with those of the Western Hemisphere. We demand the restoration of our navy to its old-time strength and efficiency, that it may in any sea protect the rights of American citizens and the interests of American commerce, and we call upon Congress to remove the burdens under which American shipping has been depressed, so that it may again be true that we have a commerce which leaves no sea unexplored, and a navy which takes no law for superior force.

Resolved, That appointments by the President to offices in the Territories should be made from the bona fide citizens and residents of the Territories wherein they are to serve.

Resolved, That it is the duty of Congress to enact such laws as shall promptly and effectually suppress the system of polygamy within our territory, and divorce the political from the ecclesiastical power of the so-called Mormon Church, and that the law so enacted should be rigidly enforced by the civil authorities, if possible, and by the military, if need be.

The people of the United States, in their organized capacity, constitute a nation, and not a mere confederacy of States. The National Government is supreme within the sphere of its national duty, but the States have reserved rights which should be faithfully maintained; each should be guarded with jealous care, so that the harmony of our system of government may be preserved and the Union kept inviolate. The perpetuity of our institutions rests upon the maintenance of a free ballot, an honest count, and a correct return. We denounce the fraud and violence practiced by the Democratic party in the Southern States, by which the will of the voter is defeated, as dangerous to the preservation of free institutions, and we solemnly arraign the Democratic party as being the guilty recipient of the fruit of such fraud and violence. We extend to the Republicans of the South, regardless of their former party affiliations, our cordial sympathy, and pledge to them our most earnest efforts to promote the passage of such legislation as will secure to every citizen, of whatever race or color, the full and complete recognition, possession and exercise of all civil and political rights.

DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION.

Held at Chicago, July 8.

Called to order by Wm. H. Barnum, of Connecticut. Richard B. Hubbard, of Texas, was made temporary chairman, and Wm. F. Vilas, of Wisconsin, permanent chairman.

Nominations for a candidate for President were made as follows:

THOMAS F. BAYARD, of Delaware, by George Grey, of Delaware.

JOSEPH E. McDONALD, of Indiana, by Thomas A. Hendricks of Indiana.

ALLEN G. THURMAN, of Ohio, by J. A. Breckinridge, of California.

JOHN G. CARLISLE, of Kentucky, by J. A. McKenzie, of Kentucky.

GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York by D. M. Lockwood, of New York.

SAMUEL J. RANDALL, of Pennsylvania, by Wm. A. Wallace, of Pennsylvania.

GEORGE HOADLY, of Ohio, by Thomas E. Powell, of Ohio.

Two ballots for the choice of a candidate were taken, with the following result:

	1st.	2d.
Cleveland.....	392	683
Bayard.....	170	81½
Randall.....	78	4
McDonald.....	56	2
Thurman.....	88	4
Hoadly.....	3	...
Carlisle.....	27	...
Tilden.....	1	...
Flower.....	4	...
Hendricks.....	1	45½

Grover Cleveland, having received more than the necessary two-thirds vote on the second ballot, was declared the nominee. After the first ballot, Randall, Thurman and McDonald were withdrawn. Hendricks was put in nomination by the Indiana delegation.

Thomas A. Hendricks was nominated for Vice-President, on a call of the States, without a vote against him.

William R. Morrison, of Illinois, from the Committee on Resolutions, reported the following platform, which was adopted:

Platform.

The Democratic party of the Union, through its representatives in national convention assembled, recognizes that, as the nation grows older, new issues are born of time and progress, and old issues perish. But the fundamental principles of the Democracy, approved by the united voice of the people, remain, and will ever remain, as the best and only security for the continuance of free government. The preservation of personal rights, the equality of all citizens before the law, the reserved rights of the States, and the supremacy of the Federal Government within the limits of the Constitution, will ever form the true basis of our liberties, and can never be surrendered without destroying that balance of rights and powers which enables a continent to be developed in peace, and social order to be maintained by means of local self-government. But it is indispensable for the practical operation and enforcement of these fundamental principles that the government should not always be controlled by one political power. Frequent change of administration is as necessary as constant recurrence to the popular will. Otherwise abuses grow, and the Government, instead of being carried on for the general welfare, becomes an instrumentality for imposing heavy burdens on the many who are governed for the benefit of the few who govern. Public servants thus become arbitrary rulers.

This is now the condition of the country, hence a change is demanded. The Republican party, so far as principle is concerned, is a reminiscence. In practice it is an organization for enriching those who control its machinery. The frauds and jobbery which have been brought to light in every department of the Government are sufficient to have called for reform within the Republican party, yet those in authority, made reckless by the long possession of power, have succumbed to its corrupting influence, and have placed in nomination a ticket against which the independent portion of the party are in open revolt.

Therefore a change is demanded. Such a change was alike necessary in 1876, but the will of the people was then defeated by a fraud which can never be forgotten or condoned. Again, in 1880, the change demanded by the people was defeated by the lavish use of money contributed by unscrupulous contractors and shameless jobbers, who had bargained for unlawful profits or high office. The Republican party during its legal, its stolen, and its bought tenures of power, has steadily decayed in moral character and political capacity. Its platform promises are now a list of its past failures. It demands the restoration of our navy—it has squandered hundreds of millions to create a navy that does not exist. It calls upon Congress to remove the burdens under which American shipping has been depressed—it imposed and has continued these burdens. It professes the policy of reserving the public lands for small holdings by actual settlers—it has given away the people's heritage till now a few railroads and non-resident aliens, individual and corporate, possess a larger area than that of all our farms between the two seas. It professes a reverence for free institutions—it organized and tried to organize a control of State elections by Federal troops. It professes a desire to elevate labor—it has subjected American workingmen to the competition of convict and imported contract labor. It professes gratitude to all who were disabled or died in the war, leaving widows and orphans—it left to a Democratic House of Representatives the first effort to equalize both bounties and pensions. It proffers a pledge to correct the irregularities of our tariff—it created and has continued them; its own tariff commission confessed the need of more than twenty per cent reduction; its Congress gave a reduction of less than four per cent. It professes the protection of American manufactures—it has subjected them to an increasing flood of manufactured goods and a hopeless competition with manufacturing nations, not one of which taxes raw materials. It professes to protect all American industries—it has impoverished many to subsidize a few. It professes the protection of American labor—it has depleted the returns of American agriculture, an industry followed by half our people. It professes the equality of all men before the law, attempting to fix the status of colored citizens—the acts of its Congress were overset by the decisions of its courts. It "accepts anew the duty of leading in the work of progress and reform"—its caught criminals are permitted to escape through contrived delays or actual connivance in the prosecution. Honeycombed with corruption, outbreking exposures no longer shock its moral sense. Its honest members, its independent journals, no longer maintain a successful contest for authority in its councils or a veto upon bad nominations. That change is necessary is proved by an existing surplus of more than $100,000,000, which has been yearly collected from a suffering people. Unnecessary taxation is unjust taxation. We denounce the Republican party for having failed to relieve the people from crushing war taxes, which have paralyzed business, crippled industry, and deprived labor of employment and of just reward.

The Democracy pledges itself to purify the Administration from corruption, to restore economy, to revive respect for the law, and to reduce taxation to the lowest limit consistent with due regard to the preservation of the faith of the nation to its creditors and pensioners. Knowing full well, however, that legislation affecting the operations of the people should be cautious and conservative in method, not in advance of public opinion, but responsive to its demands, the Democratic party is pledged to revise the tariff in a spirit of fairness to all interests. But in making reduction in taxes, it is not proposed to injure any domestic industries, but rather to promote their healthy growth. From the foundation of this Government taxes collected at the Custom House have been the chief source of Federal revenue. Such they must continue to be. Moreover, many industries have come to rely upon legislation for successful continuance, so that any change of law must be at every step regardful of the labor and capital thus involved. The process of the reform must be subject in the execution to this plain dictate of justice—all taxation shall be limited to the requirements of economical government. The necessary reduction in taxation can and must be effected without depriving American labor of the ability to compete successfully with foreign labor, and without imposing lower rates of duty than will be ample to cover any increased cost of production which may exist in consequence of the higher rate of wages prevailing in this country. Sufficient revenue to pay all the expenses of the Federal Government economically administered, including pensions, interest, and principal of the public debt, can be got under our present system of taxation from Custom House taxes on fewer imported articles, bearing heaviest on articles of luxury, and bearing lightest on articles of necessity. We, therefore, denounce the abuses of the existing tariff; and subject to the preceding limitations, we demand that Federal taxation shall be exclusively for public purposes, and shall not exceed the needs of the Government economically administered.

The system of direct taxation, known as the "internal revenue," is a war tax, and so long as the law continues, the money derived therefrom should be sacredly devoted to the relief of the people from the remaining burdens of the war, and be made a fund to defray the expense of the care and comfort of worthy soldiers disabled in line of duty in the wars of the Republic, and for the payment of such pensions as Congress may from time to time grant to such soldiers, a like fund for the sailors having been already provided; and any surplus should be paid into the Treasury.

We favor an American continental policy based upon more intimate commercial and political relations with the fifteen sister Republics of North, Central and South America, but entangling alliances with none.

We believe in honest money, the gold and silver coinage of the Constitution, and a circulating medium convertible into such money without loss.

Asserting the equality of all men before the law, we hold that it is the duty of the Government in its dealings with the people to mete out equal and exact justice to all citizens of whatever nativity, race, color or persuasion, religious or political.

We believe in a free ballot and a fair count, and we recall to the memory of the people the noble struggle of the Democrats in the Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses, by which a reluctant Republican opposition was compelled to assent to legislation making everywhere illegal the presence of troops at the polls, as a conclusive proof that a Democratic Administration will preserve liberty with order.

The selection of Federal officers for the Territories should be restricted to citizens previously resident therein.

We oppose sumptuary laws which vex the citizen and interfere with individual liberty.

We favor honest civil service reform and the compensation of all United States officers by fixed salaries; the separation of Church and State, and the diffusion of free education by common schools, so that every child in the land may be taught the rights and duties of citizenship.

While we favor all legislation which will tend to the equitable distribution of property, to the prevention of monopoly, and to the strict enforcement of individual rights against corporate abuses, we hold that the welfare of society depends upon a scrupulous regard for the rights of property as defined by law. We believe that labor is best rewarded where it is freest and most enlightened. It should, therefore, be fostered and cherished. We favor the repeal of all laws restricting the free action of labor, and the enactment of laws by which labor organizations may be incorporated, and of all such legislation as will tend to enlighten the people as to the true relations of capital and labor.

We believe that the public land ought, as far as possible, to be kept as homesteads for actual settlers; that all unearned lands heretofore improvidently granted to railroad corporations by the action of the Republican party should be restored to the public domain, and that no more grants of land shall be made to corporations or be allowed to fall into the ownership of alien absentees.

We are opposed to all propositions which upon any pretext would convert the General Government into a machine for collecting taxes to be distributed among the States or the citizens thereof.

In reaffirming the declarations of the Democratic platform of 1856, that "the liberal principles embodied by Jefferson in the Declaration of Independence and sanctioned in the Constitution, which make ours the land of liberty and the asylum of the oppressed of every nation, have ever been cardinal principles in the Democratic faith," we nevertheless do not sanction the importation of foreign labor or the admission of servile races unfitted by habits, training, religion, or kindred for absorption into the great body of our people or for the citizenship which our laws confer. American civilization demands that against the immigration or importation of Mongolians to these shores our gates be closed.

The Democratic party insists that it is the duty of the Government to protect with equal fidelity and vigilance the rights of its citizens, native and naturalized, at home and abroad; and to the end that this protection may be assured United States papers of naturalization, issued by courts of competent jurisdiction must be respected by the executive and legislative departments of our own Government and by all foreign powers. It is an imperative duty of this Government to efficiently protect all the rights of persons and property of every American citizen in foreign lands and demand and enforce full reparation for any invasion thereof. An American citizen is only responsible to his own Government for any act done in his own country or under her flag, and can only be tried therefor on her own soil and according to her laws, and no power exists in this Government to expatriate an American citizen to be tried in any foreign land for any such act.

This country has never had a well-defined and executed foreign policy save under Democratic administration. That policy has ever been, in regard to foreign nations, so long as they do not act detrimental to the interests of the country or hurtful to our citizens, to let them alone; that as the result of this policy we recall the acquisition of Louisiana, Florida, California, and of the adjacent Mexican territory, by purchase alone, and contrast these grand acquisitions of Democratic statesmanship with the purchase of Alaska, the sole fruit of a Republican administration of nearly a quarter of a century.

The Federal Government should care for and improve the Mississippi River and other great waterways of the Republic, so as to secure for the interior States easy and cheap transportation to tidewater.

Under a long period of Democratic rule and policy our merchant marine was fast overtaking, and on the point of outstripping, that of Great Britain. Under twenty years of Republican rule and policy our commerce has been left to British bottoms and almost has the American flag been swept off the high seas. Instead of the Republican party's British policy, we demand for the people of the United States an American policy. Under Democratic rule and policy our merchants and sailors, flying the Stars and Stripes in every port, successfully searched out a market for the varied products of American industry; under a quarter of a century of Republican rule and policy, despite our manifest advantages over all other nations in high-paid labor, favorable climates and teeming soils, despite freedom of trade among all these United States, despite their population by the foremost races of men and an annual immigration of the young, thrifty and adventurous of all nations, despite our freedom here from the inherited burdens of life and industry in Old-World monarchies, their costly war navies, their vast tax-consuming, non-producing standing armies, despite twenty years of peace, that Republican rule and policy have managed to surrender to Great Britain, along with our commerce, the control of the markets of the world.

Instead of the Republican party's British policy, we demand, in behalf of the American Democracy, an American policy. Instead of the Republican party's discredited scheme and false pretenses of friendship for American labor, expressed by imposing taxes, we demand in behalf of the Democracy freedom for American labor, by reducing taxes, to the end that these United States may compete with unhindered powers for the primacy among nations in all the arts of peace and fruits of liberty.

With profound regret we have been apprised by the venerable statesman, through whose person was struck that blow at the vital principle of republics—acquiescence in the will of the majority—that he cannot permit us again to place in his hands the leadership of the Democratic hosts, for the reason that the achievement of reform in the administration of the Federal Government is an undertaking now too heavy for his age and failing strength. Rejoicing that his life has been prolonged until the general judgment of our fellow-countrymen is united in the wish that wrong were righted in his person, for the Democracy of the United States we offer to him in his withdrawal from public cares, not only our respectful sympathy and esteem, but also that best homage of freemen—the pledge of our devotion to the principles and the cause now inseparable in the history of the Republic from the labors and the name of Samuel J. Tilden.

With this statement of the hopes, principles and purposes of the Democratic party, the great issue of reform and change in administration is submitted to the people in calm confidence that the popular voice will pronounce in favor of new men and new and more favorable conditions for the growth of industry, the extension of trade, the employment and due reward of labor and of capital, and the general welfare of the whole country.

Benjamin F. Butler, of Massachusetts, offered a minority report, which was voted down by 714½ to 97½.

GREENBACK NATIONAL CONVENTION.

Held at Indianapolis, May 8.

John Tyler, of Florida, was chosen temporary chairman, and James B. Weaver, of Iowa, permanent chairman.

Nominations for a candidate for President were made as follows:

BENJAMIN F. BUTLER, of Massachusetts, by C. A. Cunningham, of Arkansas.

JESSE HARPER, of Illinois, by Mr. Craver, of Georgia.

E. P. ALLIS, of Wisconsin, by George O. Jones, of New York.

THOMAS A. ARMSTRONG, of Pennsylvania, by Mr. Doody, of New York.

Mr. Armstaong declined before a ballot was taken.

The only ballot resulted in the nomination of Benjamin F. Butler by the following vote: Butler, 322; Harper, 99; Allis, 1; Davis, 1; Chase, 2. General Butler had previously been named by the Anti-Monopoly Convention at Chicago.

A. M. West, of Mississippi, was nominated for Vice-President by acclamation.

Colonel Norton, from the Committee on Resolutions, presented the following platform, which was adopted:

Platform.

Eight years ago our young party met in this city for the first time, and proclaimed to the world its immortal principles, and placed before the American people as a Presidential candidate that great philanthropist and spotless statesman, Peter Cooper. Since that convention our party has organized all over the Union, and through discussion and agitation has been educating the people to a sense of their rights and duties to themselves and their country. These labors have accomplished wonders. We now have a great, harmonious party, and thousands who believe in our principles in the ranks of other parties.

"We point with pride to our history." We forced the remonetization of the silver dollar; prevented the refunding of the public debt into long-time public bonds; secured the payment of the bonds, until the "best banking system the world ever saw" for robbing the producer now totters because of its contracting foundation; we have stopped the squandering of our public domain upon corporations; we have stopped the wholesale destruction of our greenback currency, and secured a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, establishing forever the right of the people to issue their own money.

Notwithstanding all this, never in our history have the banks, land-grant railroads, and other monopolies been more insolent in their demands for further privileges—still more class legislation. In this emergency the dominant parties are arrayed against the people, and are the abject tools of the corporate monopolies.

In the last Congress they repealed over $12,000,000 of annual taxes for the banks, throwing the burden upon the people to pay or pay interest thereon.

Both old parties in the present Congress vie with each other in their efforts to further repeal taxes in order to stop the payment of the public debt, and save the banks whose charters they have renewed for twenty years. Notwithstanding the distress of business, the shrinkage of wages and panic, they persist in locking up, on various pretexts, $400,000,000 of money, every dollar of which the people pay interest upon, and need, the most of which should be promptly applied to pay bonds now payable.

The old parties are united—as they cannot agree what taxes to repeal—in efforts to squander the income of the Government upon every pretext rather than pay the debt.

A bill has already passed the United States Senate making the banks a present of over $50,000,000 more of the people's money in order to enable them to levy a still greater burden of interest taxes.

A joint effort is being made by the old party leaders to overthrow the sovereign constitutional power of the people to control their own financial affairs and issue their own money, in order to forever enslave the masses to bankers and other business. The House of Representatives has passed bills reclaiming nearly 100,000,000 acres of lands granted to and forfeited by railroad companies. These bills have gone to the Senate, a body composed largely of aristocratic millionaires, who, according to their own party papers, generally purchased their elections in order to protect great monopolies which they represent. This body has thus far defied the people and the House, and refused to act upon these bills in the interest of the people.

Therefore, we, the National party of the United States, in National convention assembled, this 29th day of May, A. D. 1884, declare:

1. That we hold the late decision of the Supreme Court on the legal tender question to be a full vindication of the theory which our party has always advocated on the right and authority of Congress over the issue of legal-tender notes, and we hereby pledge ourselves to uphold said decision, and to defend the Constitution against alterations or amendments intended to deprive the people of any rights or privileges conferred by that instrument. We demand the issue of such money in sufficient quantities to supply the actual demand of trade and commerce, in accordance with the increase of population and the development of our industries. We demand the substitution of greenbacks for national bank notes and the prompt payment of the public debt. We want that money which saved our country in time of war, and which has given it prosperity and happiness in peace. We condemn the retirement of the fractional currency and the small denominations of greenbacks, and demand their restoration. We demand the issue of the hoards of money now locked up in the United States Treasury, by applying them to the payment of the public debt now due.

2. We denounce, as dangerous to our republican institutions, those methods and policies of the Democratic and Republican parties which have sanctioned or permitted the establishment of land, railroad, money, and other gigantic corporate monopolies; and we demand such governmental action as may be necessary to take from such monopolies the powers they have so corruptly and unjustly usurped, and restore them to the people, to whom they belong.

3. The public lands being the natural inheritance of the people, we denounce that policy which has granted to corporations vast tracts of land, and we demand that immediate and vigorous measures be taken to reclaim from such corporations, for the people's use and benefit, all such land grants as have been forfeited by reason of nonfulfilment of contract, or that may have been wrongfully acquired by corrupt legislation, and that such reclaimed lands and other public domain be henceforth held as a sacred trust to be granted only to actual settlers in limited quantities; and we also demand that the alien ownership of land, individual or corporate, shall be prohibited.

4. We demand congressional regulation of interstate commerce. We denounce "pooling," stock watering and discrimination in rates and charges, and demand that Congress shall correct these abuses, even, if necessary, by the construction of national railroads. We also demand the establishment of a government postal telegraph system.

5. All private property, all forms of money and obligations to pay money, should bear their just proportion of the public taxes. We demand a graduated income tax.

6. We demand the amelioration of the condition of labor by enforcing the sanitary laws in industrial establishments, by the abolition of the convict labor system, by a rigid inspection of mines and factories, by a reduction of the hours of labor in industrial establishments, by fostering educational institutions, and by abolishing child labor.

7. We condemn all importations of contracted labor, made with a view of reducing to starvation wages the workmen of this country, and demand laws for its prevention.

8. We insist upon a constitutional amendment reducing the terms of United States Senators.

9. We demand such rules for the government of Congress as shall place all representatives of the people upon an equal footing, and take away from committees a veto power greater than that of the President.

10. The question as to the amount of duties to be levied upon various articles of import has been agitated and quarreled over and has divided communities for nearly a hundred years. It is not now and never will be settled unless by the abolition of indirect taxation. It is a convenient issue—always raised when people are excited over abuses in their midst. While we favor a wise revision of the tariff laws, with a view of raising a revenue from luxuries rather than necessities, we insist that as an economic question its importance is insignificant as compared with financial issues; for whereas we have suffered our worst panics under low and also under high tariffs, we have never suffered from a panic nor seen our factories and workshops closed while the volume of money in circulation was adequate to the needs of commerce. Give our farmers and manufacturers money as cheap as you now give it to our bankers, and they can pay high wages to labor, and compete with all the world.

11. For the purpose of testing the sense of the people upon the subject, we are in favor of submitting to a vote of the people an amendment to the Constitution in favor of suffrage regardless of sex, and also on the subject of the liquor traffic.

12. All disabled soldiers of the late war should be equitably pensioned, and we denounce the policy of keeping a small army of office-holders whose only business is to prevent, on technical grounds, deserving soldiers from obtaining justice from the government they helped to save.

13. As our name indicates we are a National party, knowing no East, no West, no North, no South. Having no sectional prejudices, we can properly place in nomination for the high offices of State, as candidates, men from any section of the Union.

14. We appeal to all people who believe in our principles to aid us by voice, pen and votes.

The platform was adopted without a division after an amendment in favor of free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver was voted down—yeas 164, nays, 218. The candidates, Benjamin F. Butler, of Massachusetts, for President, and A. M. West, of Mississippi, for Vice-President, were nominated May 28, both on the first ballot. General Butler was also nominated for President at the Anti-Monopoly National Convention, Chicago, May 14, 1884.

PROHIBITION NATIONAL CONVENTION.

Held at Pittsburgh, July 23.

John P. St. John, of Kansas, was nominated for President, receiving every vote in the convention on the call of States. William Daniel, of Maryland, was nominated for Vice-President. James Black, of Pennsylvania, reported a platform, which was adopted. The platform declares that the Prohibition party acknowledges Almighty God as the sovereign from whom the just powers of Government are derived, and to whose laws human laws should conform; that the importation, manufacture and sale of alcoholic beverages is shown to be the promoting cause of intemperance, with resulting crime and pauperism, imposing large and unjust taxation upon private thrift and industry, endangering the public peace, corrupting politics and legislation, and imperiling the perpetuity of civil and religious liberty. The platform calls upon all citizens to aid in the legal suppression of the liquor traffic. It calls attention to the fact that during the twenty-four years in which the Republican party has been in power no efforts have been made to change the policy which has permitted the liquor traffic, and that there are now over 200,000 distilleries, breweries, wholesale and retail dealers in liquor, holding certificates and claiming the authority of Government for the continuation of a business so destructive to the moral and material welfare of the people. The Republican party is insensible to, or impotent for, the redress of these wrongs, and should no longer be intrusted with the powers of Government. The platform says further: Within the year past Mr. Blaine has publicly recommended that the revenue derived from the liquor traffic shall be distributed among the States, and Senator Logan has by bill proposed to devote these revenues to the support of schools, thus both virtually recommending the perpetuation of the traffic, and that the States and their citizens shall become partners in the liquor crime.

The fact that the Democratic party has in its national deliverance of party policy arrayed itself on the side of the drink makers and sellers, by declaring against the policy of prohibition of such traffic under the false name of "sumptuary laws," and when in power in some of the States in refusing to permit the creation of a board of inquiry to investigate and report upon the effects of this traffic, proves that the Democratic party should not be intrusted with power. Experience shows that any party not openly opposed to the traffic will court the favor of the criminal classes; will barter away public morals, purity of the ballot, and every trust and object of good government for party success.

It asserts that the collection of revenues from alcoholic liquors and tobacco should be abolished, as the vices of men are not a proper subject for taxation; that revenue for custom-duties should be levied for the support of government economically administered, and when so levied the fostering of American labor, manufactures and industries should constantly be held in view; that all money, coin and paper, shall be made, issued and regulated by the General Government, and shall be a legal tender for all debts, public or private.

That the principle is un-American that would exclude any person or people from residence or citizenship with all others who may desire the benefits which our institutions confer upon the oppressed of all nations.

That Congress should exercise its undoubted power and prohibit the manufacture and sale of intoxicating beverages in the District of Columbia, in the Territories of the United States, and in all places over which the Government has exclusive jurisdiction: that hereafter no State shall be admitted into the Union until its Constitution shall expressly prohibit polygamy and the manufacture and sale of intoxicating beverages.

In conclusion, the platform declares "that believing in the civil and political equalities of the sexes, and believing that the ballot in the hands of women is a right for her protection, and would prove a powerful ally for the abolition of the drink-saloon, the execution of law, the promotion of reform in civil affairs, and the removal of corruption in public life, we relegate the practical outworking of this reform to the discretion of the Prohibition party in the several States, according to the condition of public sentiment in those States."

LETTERS OF ACCEPTANCE.

Mr. Blaine's Letter.

AUGUSTA, ME., July 15, 1884.

The Hon. JOHN B. HENDERSON, and others of the Committee, etc.

GENTLEMEN—In accepting the nomination for the Presidency tendered me by the Republican National Convention, I beg to express a deep sense of the honor which is conferred, and of the duty which is imposed. I venture to accompany the acceptance with some observations upon the questions involved in the contest—questions whose settlement may affect the future of the Nation favorably or unfavorably for a long series of years.

In enumerating the issues upon which the Republican party appeals for popular support, the Convention has been singularly explicit and felicitous. It has properly given the leading position to the industrial interests of the country as affected by the tariff on imports. In that question, the two great parties are radically in conflict. Almost the first act of the Republicans, when they came into power in 1861, was the establishment of the principle of protection to American labor and to American capital. This principle, the Republican party has ever since steadily maintained, while on the other hand, the Democratic party in Congress has, for fifty years, persistently warred upon it. Twice within that period, our opponents have destroyed tariffs arranged for protection, and since the close of the civil war, whenever they have controlled the House of Representatives, hostile legislation has been attempted—never more conspicuously than in their principal measure at the late session of Congress.

Revenue laws are in their very nature subject to frequent revision in order that they may be adapted to changes and modifications of trade. The Republican party is not contending for the supremacy of any particular statute. The issue between the two parties does not have reference to a specific law. It is far broader and far deeper. It involves a principle of wide application and beneficent influence against a theory which we believe to be unsound in conception and inevitably hurtful in practice. In the many tariff revisions which have been necessary in the past twenty-three years, or which may hereafter become necessary, the Republican party has maintained and will maintain the policy of protection to American industry, while our opponents insist upon a revision which practically destroys that policy. The issue is thus distinct, well-defined and unavoidable. The pending election may determine the fate of protection for a generation. The overthrow of the policy means a large and permanent reduction in the wages of the American laborer, besides involving the loss of vast amounts of American capital invested in manufacturing enterprises. The value of the present revenue system to the people of the United States, is not a matter of theory, and I shall submit no argument to sustain it. I only invite attention to certain facts of official record which seem to constitute a demonstration.

In the census of 1850 an effort was made, for the first time in our history, to obtain a valuation of all the property in the United States. The attempt was in a large degree unsuccessful. Partly from lack of time, partly from prejudice among many who thought the inquiries forshadowed a new scheme of taxation, the returns were incomplete and unsatisfactory. Little more was done than to consolidate the local valuation used in the States for purposes of assessment, and that as every one knows differs widely from a complete exhibit of all the property.

In the census of 1860, however, the work was done with great thoroughness, the distinction between "assessed" value and "true" value being carefully observed. The grand result was that the "true value" of all the property in the States and Territories (excluding slaves), amounted to $14,000,000,000. The aggregate was the net result of the labor and savings of all the people of the United States, from the time the first British colonist landed in 1607 down to the year 1860. This represented the fruit of the toil of two hundred and fifty years.

After 1860 the business of the country was encouraged and developed by a Protective Tariff. At the end of twenty years, the total property of the United States, as returned by the census of 1880, amounted to the enormous aggregate of $44,000,000,000. This great result was attained, notwithstanding the fact that countless millions had in the interval been wasted in the progress of a bloody war. It thus appears that while our population between 1860 and 1880 increased sixty per cent, the aggregate property of the country increased 214 per cent—showing a vastly enhanced wealth per capita among the people. Thirty billion dollars had been added during these twenty years to the permanent wealth of the nation.

These results are regarded by the older Nations of the world as phenomenal. That our country should surmount the peril and cost of a gigantic war and for a period of twenty years make an average gain to its wealth of one hundred and twenty-five million dollars per month, surpasses the experience of all nations ancient or modern. Even the opponents of the present revenue system do not pretend that in the whole history of civilization any parallel can be found to the material progress of the United States, since the accession of the Republican party to power.

The period between 1860 and to-day has not been one of material prosperity only. At no time in the history of the United States has there been such progress in the moral and philanthropic field. Religious and charitable institutions, schools, seminaries and colleges, have been founded and endowed with far more generosity than at any previous time in our history. Greater and more varied relief has been extended to human suffering and the center of progress of the country in wealth has been accompanied and dignified by a broadening and elevation of our national character as a people.

Our opponents find fault that our revenue system produces a surplus. But they should not forget that the law has given a specific purpose to which all of the surplus is profitably and honorably applied, the reduction of the public debt and the consequent relief of the burden of taxation. No dollar has been wasted, and the only extravagance with which the party stands charged is the generous pensioning of soldiers, sailors and their families—an extravagance which embodies the highest form of justice in the recognition and payment of a sacred debt. When reduction of taxation is to be made, the Republican party can be trusted to accomplish it in such form as will most effectually aid the industries of the nation.

A frequent accusation by our opponents is that the foreign commerce of the country has steadily decayed under the influence of a Protective Tariff. In this way they seek to array this important interest against the Republican party. It is a common and yet radical error to confound the commerce of the country with its carrying trade—an error often committed innocently and sometimes designedly—but an error so gross that it does not distinguish between the ship and the cargo. Foreign commerce represents the exports and imports of a country regardless of the nationality of the vessel that may carry the commodities of exchange. Our carrying trade has from obvious causes suffered many discouragements since 1860, but our foreign commerce has in the same period steadily and prodigiously increased—increased, indeed, at a rate and to an amount which absolutely dwarf all previous developments of our trade beyond the sea. From 1860 to the present time the foreign commerce of the United States (divided with approximate equality between exports and imports), reached the astounding aggregate of $24,000,000,000. The balance in this vast commerce inclined in our favor, but it would have been much larger if our trade with the countries of America, elsewhere referred to, had been more wisely adjusted.

It is difficult even to appreciate the magnitude of our export trade since 1860, and we can gain a correct conception of it only by comparison with preceding results in the same field. The total exports of the United States from the Declaration of Independence in 1776, down to the day of Lincoln's election in 1860, added to all that had previously been exported from the American Colonies from their original settlement, amounted to less than $9,000,000,000. On the other hand, our exports from 1860 to the close of the last fiscal year exceeded $12,000,000,000—the whole of it being the product of American labor. Evidently a Protective Tariff has not injured our export trade when, under its influence, we exported in twenty-four years 40 per cent more than had been exported in the entire previous history of American commerce. All the details, when analyzed, correspond with this gigantic result. The commercial cities of the Union never had such growth as they have enjoyed since 1860. Our chief emporium, the city of New York, with its dependencies, has within that period doubled her population, and increased her wealth five-fold. During the same period the imports and exports which have entered and left her harbor are more than double in bulk and value the whole amount imported and exported by her between the settlement of the first Dutch colony on the island of Manhattan and the outbreak of the Civil War in 1860.

The Agricultural interest is by far the largest in the Nation, and is entitled in every adjustment of the Revenue Laws, to the first consideration. Any policy hostile to the fullest development of Agriculture in the United States must be abandoned. Realizing this fact, the opponents of the present system of revenue have labored very earnestly to persuade the farmers of the United States that they are robbed by a Protective Tariff, and the effort is thus made to consolidate their vast influence in favor of Free Trade. But, happily the farmers of America are intelligent and cannot be misled by sophistry when conclusive facts are before them. They see plainly that during the past twenty-four years wealth has not been acquired in one section or by one interest at the expense of another section or another interest. They see that the agricultural States have made even more rapid progress than the manufacturing States.

The farmers see that in 1860 Massachusetts and Illinois had about the same wealth — between eight and nine hundred million dollars each — and that in 1880 Massachusetts had advanced to twenty-six hundred millions, while Illinois had advanced to thirty-two hundred millions. They see that New Jersey and Iowa were just equal in population in 1860, and that in twenty years the wealth of New Jersey was increased by the sum of eight hundred and fifty millions of dollars, while the wealth of Iowa was increased by the sum of fifteen hundred millions. They see that the leading agricultural States of the West have grown so rapidly in prosperity that the aggregate addition to their wealth since 1860 is almost as great as the wealth of the entire country in that year. They see that the South, which is almost exclusively agricultural, has shared in the general prosperity, and that having recovered from the loss and devastation of war, has gained so rapidly that its total wealth is at least the double of that which it possessed in 1860, exclusive of slaves.

In these extraordinary developments the farmers see the helpful impulse of a home market, and they see that the financial and revenue system enacted since the Republican party came into power has established and constantly expanded the home market. They see that even in the case of wheat, which is our chief cereal export, they have sold, in the average of the years since the close of the war, three bushels at home to one they have sold abroad, and that in the case of corn, the only other cereal we export to any extent, one hundred bushels have been used at home to three and one-half bushels exported. The farmers see that in the increasing competition from the grain fields of Russia and from the distant plains of India, the growth of the home market becomes daily of greater concern to them, and that its impairment would depreciate the value of every acre of tillable land in the Union.

Such facts as these touching the growth and consumption of cereals at home give us some slight conception of the vastness of the internal commerce of the United States. They suggest, also, that, in addition to the advantages which the American people enjoy from protection against foreign competition, they enjoy the advantage of absolute free trade over a larger area and with a greater population than any other nation.

The internal commerce of our thirty-eight States and nine Territories is carried on without let or hindrance, without tax, detention or Governmental interference of any kind whatever. It spreads freely over an area of three and a half million square miles — almost equal in extent to the whole continent of Europe. Its profits are enjoyed to-day by fifty-six millions of American freemen, and from this enjoyment no monopoly is created. According to Alexander Hamilton, when he discussed the same subject in 1790, "the internal competition which takes place does away with every thing like monopoly, and by degrees reduces the prices of articles to the minimum of a reasonable profit on the capital employed." It is impossible to point to a single monopoly in the United States that has been created or fostered by the industrial system which is upheld by the Republican party.

Compared with our foreign commerce these domestic exchanges are inconceivably great in amount — requiring merely as one instrumentality as large a mileage of railway as exists to-day in all the other nations of the world combined. These internal exchanges are estimated by the Statistical Bureau of the Treasury Department to be annually twenty times as great in amount as our foreign commerce. It is into this vast field of home trade — at once the creation and the heritage of the American people — that foreign nations are striving by every device to enter. It is into this field that the opponents of our present revenue system would freely admit the countries of Europe — countries into whose internal trade we could not reciprocally enter — countries to which we should be surrendering every advantage of trade; from which we should be gaining nothing in return.

A policy of this kind would be disastrous to the mechanics and workingmen of the United States. Wages are unjustly reduced when an industrious man is not able by his earnings to live in comfort, educate his children and lay by a sufficient amount for the necessities of age. The reduction of wages inevitably consequent upon throwing our home market open to the world would deprive them of the power to do this. It would prove a great calamity to our country. It would produce a conflict between the poor and the rich, and in the sorrowful degradation of labor would plant the seeds of public danger.

The Republican party has steadily aimed to maintain just relations between labor and capital — guarding with care the rights of each. A conflict between the two has always led in the past and will always lead in the future to the injury of both. Labor is indispensable to the creation and profitable use of capital, and capital increases the efficiency and value of labor. Whoever arrays the one against the other is an enemy of both. That policy is wisest and best which harmonizes the two on the basis of absolute justice. The Republican party has protected the free labor of America so that its compensation is larger than is realized in any other country. It has guarded our people against the unfair competition of contract labor from China, and may be called upon to prohibit the growth of a similar evil from Europe. It is obviously unfair to permit capitalists to make contracts for cheap labor in foreign countries to the hurt and disparagement of the labor of American citizens. Such a policy (like that which would leave the time and other conditions of home labor exclusively in the control of the employer) is injurious to all parties — not the least so to the unhappy persons who are made the subjects of the contract. The institutions of the United States rest upon the intelligence and virtue of all the people. Suffrage is made universal as a just weapon of self-protection to every citizen. It is not the interest of the Republic that any economic system should be adopted which involves the reduction of wages to the hard standard prevailing elsewhere. The Republican party aims to elevate and dignify labor — not to degrade it.

As a substitute for the industrial system which under Republican administrations has developed such extraordinary prosperity, our opponents offer a policy which is but a series of experiments upon our system of revenue — a policy whose end must be harm to our manufactures and greater harm to our labor. Experiment in the industrial and financial system is the country's greatest dread, as stability is its greatest boon. Even the uncertainty resulting from the recent tariff agitation in Congress has hurtfully affected the business of the entire country. Who can measure the harm to our shops and our homes, to our farms and our commerce, if the uncertainty of perpetual tariff agitation is to be inflicted upon the country? We are in the midst of an abundant harvest; we are on the eve of a revival of general prosperity. Nothing stands in our way but the dread of a change in the industrial system which has wrought such wonders in the last twenty years and which, with the power of increased capital, will work still greater marvels of prosperity in the twenty years to come.

Our foreign relations favor our domestic development. We are at peace with the world — at peace upon a sound basis, with no unsettled questions of sufficient magnitude to embarrass or distract us.

Happily removed by our geographical position from participation or interest in those questions of dynasty or boundary which so frequently disturb the peace of Europe, we are left to cultivate friendly relations with all, and are free from possible entanglements in the quarrels of any. The United States has no cause and no desire to engage in conflict with any power on earth, and we may rest in assured confidence that no power desires to attack the United States.

With the nations of the Western Hemisphere we should cultivate closer relations, and for our common prosperity and advancement we should invite them all to join with us in an agreement that, for the future, all international troubles in North or South America shall be adjusted by impartial arbitration and not by arms. This project was part of the fixed policy of President Garfield's Administration, and it should in my judgment be renewed. Its accomplishment on this continent would favorably affect the nations beyond the sea, and thus powerfully contribute at no distant day to the universal acceptance of the philanthropic and Christian principle of arbitration. The effect even of suggesting it for the Spanish-American States has been most happy, and has increased the confidence of those people in our friendly disposition. It fell to my lot, as Secretary of State, in June, 1881, to quiet apprehension in the Republic of Mexico by giving the assurance, in an official despatch, that "there is not the faintest desire in the United States for territorial extension south of the Rio Grande. The boundaries of the two Republics have been established in conformity with the best jurisdictional interests of both. The line of demarcation is not merely conventional. It is more. It separates a Spanish-American people from a Saxon-American people. It divides one great nation from another with distinct and natural finality."

We seek the conquests of peace. We desire to extend our commerce, and in an especial degree with our friends and neighbors on this continent. We have not improved our relations with Spanish-America as wisely and as persistently as we might have done. For more than a generation the sympathy of those countries has been allowed to drift away from us. We should now make every effort to gain their friendship. Our trade with them is already large. During the last year our exchanges in the Western Hemisphere amounted to three hundred and fifty millions of dollars—nearly one-fourth of our entire foreign commerce. To those who may be disposed to underrate the value of our trade with the countries of North and South America, it may be well to state that their population is nearly or quite fifty millions—and that, in proportion to aggregate numbers, we import nearly double as much from them as we do from Europe. But the result of the whole American trade is in a high degree unsatisfactory. The imports during the past year exceeded two hundred and twenty-five millions, while the exports were less than one hundred and twenty-five millions—showing a balance against us of more than one hundred millions of dollars. But the money does not go to Spanish-America. We send large sums to Europe, in coin or its equivalent, to pay European manufacturers for the goods which they send to Spanish-America. We are but paymasters for this enormous amount annually to European factors—an amount which is a serious draft, in every financial depression, upon our resources of specie.

Cannot this condition of trade in great part be changed? Cannot the market for our products be greatly enlarged? We have made a beginning in our effort to improve our trade relations with Mexico, and we should not be content until similar and mutually advantageous arrangements have been successfully made with every nation of North and South America. While the great powers of Europe are steadily enlarging their colonial domination in Asia and Africa, it is the especial province of this country to improve and expand its trade with the nations of America. No field promises so much. No field has been cultivated so little. Our foreign policy should be an American policy in its broadest and most comprehensive sense—a policy of peace, of friendship, of commercial enlargement.

The name of American, which belongs to us in our national capacity, must always exalt the just pride of patriotism. Citizenship of the Republic must be the panoply and safeguard of him who wears it. The American citizen, rich or poor, native or naturalized, white or colored, must everywhere walk secure in his personal and civil rights. The Republic should never accept a lesser duty, it can never assume a nobler one, than the protection of the humblest man who owes it loyalty—protection at home and protection which shall follow him abroad, into whatever land he may go upon a lawful errand.

I recognize, not without regret, the necessity for speaking of two sections of our common country. But the regret diminishes when I see that the elements which separated them are fast disappearing. Prejudices have yielded and are yielding, while a growing cordiality warms the Southern and the Northern heart alike. Can any one doubt that between the sections confidence and esteem are to-day more marked than at any period in the sixty years preceding the election of President Lincoln? This is the result in part of time and in part of Republican principles applied under the favorable conditions of uniformity. It would be a great calamity to change these influences under which Southern Commonwealths are learning to vindicate civil rights, and adapting themselves to the conditions of political tranquility and industrial progress. If there be occasional and violent outbreaks in the South against this peaceful progress, the public opinion of the country regards them as exceptional, and hopefully trusts that each will prove the last.

The South needs capital and occupation, not controversy. As much as any part of the North, the South needs the full protection of the revenue laws which the Republican party offers. Some of the Southern States have already entered upon a career of industrial development and prosperity. These, at least should not lend their electoral votes to destroy their own future.

Any effort to unite the Southern States upon issues that grow out of the memories of the war will summon the Northern States to combine in the assertion of that nationality which was their inspiration in the civil struggle. And thus great energies which should be united in a common industrial development will be wasted in hurtful strife. The Democratic party shows itself a foe to Southern prosperity by always invoking and urging Southern political consolidation. Such a policy quenches the rising instinct of patriotism in the heart of the Southern youth; it revives and stimulates prejudice; it substitutes the spirit of barbaric vengeance for the love of peace, progress and harmony.

The general character of the civil service of the United States under all administrations has been honorable. In the one supreme test—the collection and disbursement of revenue—the record of fidelity has never been surpassed in any nation. With the almost fabulous sums which were received and paid during the late war, scrupulous integrity was the prevailing rule. Indeed, throughout that trying period, it can be said, to the honor of the American name, that unfaithfulness and dishonesty among civil officers were as rare as misconduct and cowardice on the field of battle.

The growth of the country has continually and necessarily enlarged the civil service, until now it includes a vast body of officers. Rules and methods of appointment which prevailed when the number was smaller have been found insufficient and impracticable, and earnest efforts have been made to separate the great mass of ministerial officers from partisan influence and personal control. Impartiality in the mode of appointment to be based on qualification, and security of tenure to be based on faithful discharge of duty, are the two ends to be accomplished. The public business will be aided by separating the Legislative branch of the Government from all control of appointments, and the Executive Department will be relieved by subjecting appointments to fixed rules and thus removing them from the caprice of favoritism. But there should be rigid observance of the law which gives in all cases of equal competency the preference to the soldiers who risked their lives in defense of the Union.

I entered Congress in 1863, and in a somewhat prolonged service I never found it expedient to request or recommend the removal of a civil officer except in four instances, and then for non-political reasons which were instantly conclusive with the appointing power. The officers in the district, appointed by Mr. Lincoln in 1861 upon the recommendation of my predecessor, served, as a rule, until death or resignation. I adopted at the beginning of my service the test of competitive examination for appointments to West Point and maintained it so long as I had the right by law to nominate a cadet. In the case of many officers I found that the present law, which arbitrarily limits the term of the commission, offered a constant temptation to changes for mere political reasons. I have publicly expressed the belief that the essential modification of that law would be in many respects advantageous.

My observation in the Department of State confirmed the conclusions of my legislative experience, and impressed me with the conviction that the rule of impartial appointment might with advantage be carried beyond any existing provision of the Civil Service Law. It should be applied to appointments in the consular service. Consuls should be commercial sentinels—encircling the globe with watchfulness for their country's interests. Their intelligence and competency become, therefore, matters of great public concern. No man should be appointed to an American consulate who is not well instructed in the history and resources of his own country, and in the requirements and language of commerce in the country to which he is sent. The same rule should be applied even more rigidly to Secretaries of Legation in our diplomatic service. The people have the right to the most efficient agents in the discharge of public business, and the appointing power should regard this as the prior and ulterior consideration.

Religious liberty is the right of every citizen of the Republic. Congress is forbidden by the Constitution to make any law "respecting the establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof." For a century, under this guarantee, Protestant and Catholic, Jew and Gentile, have worshiped God according to the dictates of conscience. But religious liberty must not be perverted to the justification of offenses against the law. A religious sect, strongly entrenched in one of the Territories of the Union, and spreading rapidly into four other Territories, claims the right to destroy the great safeguard and muniment of social order, and to practice as a religious privilege that which is a crime punished with severe penalty in every State of the Union. The sacredness and unity of the family must be preserved as the foundation of all civil government, as the source of orderly administration, as the surest guarantee of moral purity.

The claim of the Mormons that they are divinely authorized to practice polygamy should no more be admitted than the claim of certain heathen tribes, if they should come among us, to continue the rite of human sacrifice. The law does not interfere with what a man believes; it takes cognizance only of what he does. As citizens, the Mormons are entitled to the same civil rights as others, and to these they must be confined. Polygamy can never receive national sanction or toleration by admitting the community that upholds it as a State in the Union. Like others, the Mormons must learn that the liberty of the individual ceases where the rights of society begin.

The people of the United States, though often urged and tempted, have never seriously contemplated the recognition of any other money than gold and silver—and currency directly convertible into them. They have not done so, they will not do so, under any necessity less pressing than that of desperate war. The one special requisite for the completion of our monetary system is the fixing of the relative values of silver and gold. The large use of silver as the money of account among Asiatic nations, taken in connection with the increasing commerce of the world, gives the weightiest reasons for an international agreement in the premises. Our Government should not cease to urge this measure until a common standard of value shall be reached and established—a standard that shall enable the United States to use the silver from its mines as an auxiliary to gold in settling the balances of commercial exchange.

The strength of the Republic is increased by the multiplication of land-holders. Our laws should look to the judicious encouragement of actual settlers on the public domain, which should henceforth be held as a sacred trust for the benefit of those seeking homes. The tendency to consolidate large tracts of land in the ownership of individuals or corporations should, with proper regard to vested rights, be discouraged. One hundred thousand acres of land in the hands of one man is far less profitable to the Nation in every way than when its ownership is divided among one thousand men. The evil of permitting large tracts of the National domain to be consolidated and controlled by the few against the many is enhanced when the persons controlling it are aliens. It is but fair that the public land should be disposed of only to actual settlers, and to those who are citizens of the Republic or willing to become so.

Among our National interests one languishes—the foreign carrying trade. It was very seriously crippled in our civil war, and another blow was given to it in the general substitution of steam for sail in ocean traffic. With a frontage on the two great oceans, with a freighting larger than that of any other nation, we have every inducement to restore our navigation. Yet the Government has hitherto refused its help. A small share of the encouragement given by the Government to railways and to manufactures, and a small share of the capital and the zeal given by our citizens to those enterprises, would have carried our ships to every sea and to every port. A law just enacted removes some of the burdens upon our navigation and inspires hope that this great interest may at last receive its due share of attention. All efforts in this direction should receive encouragement.

This survey of our condition as a Nation reminds us that material prosperity is but a mockery if it does not tend to preserve the liberty of the people. A free ballot is the safeguard of republican institutions, without which no national welfare is assured. A popular election, honestly conducted, embodies the very majesty of true government. Ten millions of voters desire to take part in the pending contest. The safety of the Republic rests upon the integrity of the ballot, upon the security of suffrage to the citizen. To deposit a fraudulent vote is no worse a crime against constitutional liberty than to obstruct the deposit of an honest vote. He who corrupts suffrage strikes at the very root of free government. He is the arch-enemy of the Republic. He forgets that in trampling upon the rights of others he fatally imperils his own rights. "It is a good land which the Lord our God doth give us," but we can maintain our heritage only by guarding with vigilance the source of popular power.

I am with great respect,

Your obedient servant,

JAMES G. BLAINE.

Mr. Cleveland's Letter.

—ALBANY, N. Y., August 18, 1884.

GENTLEMEN.—I have received your communication dated July 28, 1884, informing me of my nomination to the office of President of the United States by the National Democratic Convention lately assembled at Chicago. I accept the nomination with a grateful appreciation of the supreme honor conferred, and a solemn sense of the responsibility which, in its acceptance, I assume. I have carefully considered the platform adopted by the Convention and cordially approve the same. So plain a statement of Democratic faith and the principles upon which that party appeals to the suffrages of the people, needs no supplement or explanation. It should be remembered that the office of President is essentially executive in its nature. The laws enacted by the legislative branch of the Government, the Chief Executive is bound faithfully to enforce. And when the wisdom of the political party which selects one of its members as a nominee for that office has outlined its policy and declared its principles, it seems to me that nothing in the character of the office or the necessities of the case requires more from the candidate accepting such nomination than the suggestion of certain well-known truths, so absolutely vital to the safety and welfare of the Nation that they cannot be too often recalled or too seriously enforced.

We proudly call ours a government by the people. It is not such when a class is tolerated which arrogates to itself the management of public affairs, seeking to control the people instead of representing them. Parties are the necessary outgrowth of our institutions; but a government is not by the people when one party fastens its control upon the country, and perpetuates its power, by cajoling and betraying the people instead of serving them. A government is not by the people when a result which should represent the intelligent will of free and thinking men is, or can be, determined by the shameless corruption of their suffrages.

When an election to office shall be the selection by the voters of one of their number to assume for a time a public trust instead of his dedication to the profession of politics; when the holders of the ballot, quickened by a sense of duty, shall avenge truth betrayed and pledges broken, and when the suffrage shall be altogether free and uncorrupted, the full realization of a government by the people will be at hand. And of the means to this end, not one would, in my judgment, be more effective than an amendment to the Constitution disqualifying the President from re-election. When we consider the patronage of this great office, the allurements of power, the temptation to retain public place once gained, and more than all, the availability a party finds in an incumbent whom a horde of office-holders, with a zeal born of benefits received, and fostered by the hope of favors yet to come, stand ready to aid with money and trained political service, we recognize in the eligibility of the President for re-election, a most serious danger to that calm, deliberate and intelligent political action which must characterize a government by the people.

A true American sentiment recognizes the dignity of labor, and the fact that honor lies in honest toil. Contented labor is an element of national prosperity. A ability to work constitutes the capital and the wage of labor the income of a vast number of our population; and this interest should be jealously protected. Our workingmen are not asking unreasonable indulgence; but as intelligent and manly citizens, they seek the same consideration which those demand who have other interests at stake. They should receive their full share of the care and attention of those who make and execute the laws, to the end that the wants and needs of the employers and the employed shall alike be subserved and the prosperity of the country, the common heritage of both, be advanced. As related to this subject, while we should not discourage the immigration of those who come to acknowledge allegiance to our Government and add to our citizen population, yet as a means of protection to our workingmen, a different rule should prevail concerning those who, if they come, or are brought, to our land, do not intend to become Americans, but will injuriously compete with those justly entitled to our field of labor. In a letter accepting the nomination to the office of Governor, nearly two years ago, I made the following statement, to which I have steadily adhered:

"The laboring classes constitute the main part of our population. They should be protected in their efforts peaceably to assert their rights when endangered by aggregated capital; and all statutes on this subject should recognize the care of the State for honest toil and be framed with a view of improving the condition of the workingman." A proper regard for the welfare of the workingman being inseparably connected with the integrity of our institutions, none of our citizens are more interested than they in guarding against any corrupting influences which seek to pervert the beneficent purposes of our government; and none should be more watchful of the artful machinations of those who allure them to self-inflicted injury.

In a free country, the curtailment of the absolute rights of the individual should only be such as is essential to the peace and good order of the community. The limit between the proper subjects of governmental control, and those which can be more fittingly left to the moral sense and self-imposed restraint of the citizen should be carefully kept in view. Thus laws unnecessarily interfering with the habits and customs of any of our people which are not offensive to the moral sentiments of the civilized world, and which are consistent with good citizenship and the public welfare, are unwise and vexatious.

The commerce of a nation to a great extent determines its supremacy. Cheap and easy transportation should therefore be liberally fostered. Within the limits of the Constitution the general government should so improve and protect its natural water-ways as will enable the producers of the country to reach a profitable market.

The people pay the wages of the public employees, and they are entitled to the fair and honest work which the money thus paid should command. It is the duty of those intrusted with the management of their affairs to see that such public service is forthcoming. The selection and retention of subordinates in government employment should depend upon their ascertained fitness and the value of their work, and they should be neither expected nor allowed to do unquestionable party service. The interests of the people will be better protected; the estimate of public labor and duty will be immensely improved; public employment will be open to all who can demonstrate their fitness to enter it; the unseemly scramble for place under the government, with the consequent importunity which embitters official life, will cease; and the public departments will not be filled with those who conceive it to be their first duty to aid the party to which they owe their places, instead of rendering patient and honest return to the people.

I believe that the public temper is such that the voters of the land are prepared to support the party which gives the best promise of administering the Government in the honest, simple and plain manner which is consistent with its character and purposes. They have learned that mystery and concealment in the management of their affairs cover tricks and betrayal. The statesmanship they require consists in honesty and frugality, a prompt response to the needs of the people as they arise, and the vigilant protection of all their varied interests.

If I should be called to the Chief Magistracy of the nation by the suffrages of my fellow citizens, I will assume the duties of that high office with a solemn determination to dedicate every effort to the country's good, and with an humble reliance upon the favor and support of the Supreme Being, who I believe will always bless honest human endeavor in the conscientious discharge of public duty.

GROVER CLEVELAND.

To Colonel William F. Vilas, Chairman, and D. P. Bestor and others, members of the Notification Committee of the Democratic National Convention.

Mr. St. John's Letter.

To the Secretary of the National Prohibition Party:

* * * * *
 "There never was a time when our people could better afford, and when it was more important that they should stop and think than now. * * *
 The little time and space the old parties can spare after dealing out the full measure of personal abuse and vilification that each seems to think the other merits, is mainly devoted to a discussion of the tariff question, ignoring all matters that relate to the moral elevation of the people. I am of the opinion that the manufacturer who by reason of the depressed condition of business has been compelled to make an assignment for the benefit of his creditors will not find relief in the agitation of that question now, nor will the average farmer become enthusiastic over its discussion, with his wheat not worth so much in the bin as it cost him to produce it. The amount received by the Government for duties on imports is less than $200,000,000 annually. There are about 175,000 retail dealers in intoxicating liquors in the United States, each of whom pays to our Government $25, in consideration of which sum they are permitted to carry on their business for a term of twelve months. When we add to this the amount paid by distillers, brewers, and wholesale dealers, we find that the interest of the Government in the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors is about $80,000,000 annually. This traffic, sanctioned as it is by the laws of our country, costs the people, at a low estimate, a thousand million dollars a year, not to speak of the destroyed homes, debauched manhood, poverty, heartache, crime and corruption that it produces. This disgraceful business should be suppressed, and the enormous sum of money that, under the present system, is worse than thrown away, saved to the people; and thus a protection would be given to the industries of this country that would enable us successfully to throw our doors open wide to the competition of the world. The Republican and Democratic parties favor the continuance of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, while the Prohibition party demands that the same shall be forever suppressed. Thus an issue is presented to the people in which is involved the protection of every home in the land. It is not a mere local issue either, but is a national as well as a practical question, upon which a large and respectable body of citizens—against whose convictions party discipline is powerless—have decided to vote, and they will not be found halting between the two opinions touching this matter, but will work and pray and vote against this great evil, until it is driven from our land, never to return.

The Government is simply a reflex of the individuals composing it. We want an honest, sober people, but we can never have an honest, sober people so long as the Government sanctions that which makes its citizens dishonest, drunken and corrupt. The declaration of principles, which I heartily indorse, as set forth in the platform of the Prohibition party, is entitled to the thoughtful consideration and earnest support of all good citizens, without regard to locality or former political affiliation.

Gen. Butler's Letter.

General Butler puts his acceptance in the form of an address to his constituents. He says the political interests with which he was charged as a delegate to the Democratic convention were as follows:

(1.) Hostility to all monopolies in commerce, industries and lands. (2.) The preservation of the national legal-tender currency of the people, constitutionally issued by Congress. (3.) The needs of all men and women who labor in the production of wealth to be protected against the encroachments of those who absorb and consume without producing. (4.) The necessity for reform and correction of abuses in government, so that its pressure on the people would be made as light as possible; its administration effective, to guard the rights of American citizens at home and abroad; to make public servants, individual or incorporate, subservient to the use and will of the people only, so as to restore the prosperity of the country, with equal rights, equal burdens, equal powers and equal privileges of all the people. He intended if these were adopted by the Democratic Convention to have permitted his name to be presented in that body as a candidate for President. Gen. Butler then gives a long statement of his unsuccessful effort to control the Democratic Convention, at the close of which he elaborates the propositions above given, and urges the formation of a People's party. His letter closes with distinct addresses to the Greenback-Labor party, the Anti-Monopoly organization, the Laboring Men and the Democratic party of Massachusetts.

STATE PLATFORMS AND ORGANIZATION.

Republican Platform.

Adopted at Utica, April 23, 1884.

The Republican party of New York, in State Convention represented, declares:

First—Its confidence in the success of the Republican party of the Nation, in the coming Presidential election, under the standard bearers to be named by the Chicago Convention of June 3, because of the necessity for the continuance of Republican administration of the affairs of Government, which Democratic inability and incapacity would imperil, and because the forces of Republicanism throughout the land, embodying the superior intelligence and numbers of the people are united in support of the principles and policies indispensable to the Republic's welfare.

Second—Its great respect for President Chester A. Arthur, whose administration, begun under circumstances of peculiar sadness, delicacy and embarrassment, has by its eminent prudence and sagacity commended itself to the esteem of the country, and as such receives the cordial acknowledgments of the Republicans of his own State.

Third—Its satisfaction with the honest, frugal and intelligent Governmental expenditures, the reduction of the public debt and interest charges, and the relieving of the people from unnecessary burdens, accomplished by Republican management.

Fourth—Its approval of that policy of protecting home industry from foreign competition which has through a century of national being encouraged immigration, rewarded labor, fostered enterprise, and assured unparalleled progress and prosperity, all variations from which policy have been the occasion of business confusion and disaster, and which, therefore, is alike justified in intelligence and by experience.

Fifth—Its determination to adopt all further measures required to improve the service of the Government in all of its departments and regulate the methods of appointment thereto so that it shall be brought to the highest possible state of efficiency and integrity.

Sixth—Its purpose that equal civil rights shall be maintained under the guarantees of the Constitution everywhere in the land and that the franchise shall be respected so that every voter shall have a free ballot which shall be honestly counted.

Seventh—Its recognition of the National obligation imposed by the enfranchisement of an uneducated race, its appreciation of the extraordinary burdens thus laid upon certain commonwealths, and its cordial approval of legislation, within just constitutional limits, which shall extend Federal aid to the various States in the work of education.

Eighth—Its favor to the equalization and just distribution of taxation.

Ninth—Its wish for the removal of all unjust restrictions upon American shipping interests, the development of our maritime industries, and as incidental thereto, the establishment of our Navy upon a footing in keeping with modern necessities and our dignity as a Nation.

Tenth—Its approval of a plan of military education which shall provide for the National defense upon the voluntary system.

Eleventh—Its adherence to a sound financial policy which dictates the immediate suspension of the coinage of the standard silver dollar, the retirement of the trade dollar, and the inflexible adjustment of the currency to the single standard of gold.

Twelfth—Its protestation against that policy in Congress which, in the weakness and imbecility of the Democratic majority of the House of Representatives, has disturbed the smooth and satisfactory courses of business and material affairs that had been established under Republican auspices, and that by ill-advised and inexcusable assaults upon wisely matured and advantageous legislation has brought the business and the industries of the country to the verge of uncertainty and distrust; and thus again is demonstrated the unfitness and unworthiness of the Democratic party to be intrusted with the conduct of public affairs.

Resolved, That the Republicans of New York, in State Convention represented, respectfully request the next National Republican Convention to provide that in future National Conventions representatives shall be proportionate to the number of Republican voters of the State and Congressional Districts respectively.

Democratic Platform.

Adopted at Saratoga June 18, 1884.

Resolved, That the Democracy of the State of New York, assembled to appoint its delegates to the National Convention of the party, commits to those delegates, in association with the representatives of the party from the other States, the general declaration of Democratic principles upon National issues, at the same time recognizing that no issue can be more important than the election of the President of the United States, whose character and public reputation shall give to the whole people assurance of an honest, impartial and efficient administration of the laws without suspicion of personal ends or private interests.

Resolved, That as a declaration concerning matters of State government this Convention adopts and affirms the resolutions of the conventions of the party in 1874, 1876 and 1882, to which the people of the State have given hearty approval; that it recognizes the duty of the Legislature to respect the popular vote in 1883 for the abolition of the contract system of labor in the prisons; and that it heartily commends anew the efficient and upright administration of Grover Cleveland.

Resolved, That the delegates to the Democratic National Convention to be appointed are hereby instructed to enter that convention as a unit and to act and vote as a unit in accordance with the will of a majority of the members thereof, every delegate or alternate occupying the place of a delegate to be bound by this rule, and in case of the absence of both delegate and alternate from any district the vacancy to be filled by the vote of a majority of the delegation.

*The value of the merchandise entered for consumption embraces both goods entered for immediate consumption on arrival in the United States and goods withdrawn from warehouse for consumption during the year. The value of the imports into the United States embraces both goods entered for immediate consumption on arrival, goods entered for transportation to interior ports without appraisement, and goods entered for warehousing awaiting the payment of duties. These are given elsewhere.

†The statement in regard to the receipts and expenditures of the Government, made by the Secretary of the Treasury, shows the receipts from customs to have been $214,706,496.93 for the year ended June 30, 1883, and $195,067,489.76 for the year ended June 30, 1884. This statement includes not only duties on imports, but also tonnage tax and certain customs fees, whereas the above table shows only the amounts of duty collected on merchandise.

Reduction of Taxation.

The act of March 3, 1883, diminished the sources of revenue in several most important particulars. It abolished entirely all adhesive stamps taxation, such as were imposed upon proprietary medicines, bank checks, friction matches, etc., the reduction taking effect July 1, 1883. The tax on bank deposits and capital ceased at the beginning of the calendar year 1883, and the taxation on tobacco, in all its forms, was decreased, one-half on the 1st day of May, 1883.

It appears that the tonnage transported on the New York State canals fell from 6,442,225 tons during the year 1868, to 5,664,056 tons in 1883, but that the tonnage transported on the New York Central and Hudson River railroad increased from 1,846,599 tons in 1868 to 10,892,440 tons in 1883; that the tonnage transported on the New York, Lake Erie and Western railroad increased from 3,908,243 tons in 1868 to 13,610,623 tons in 1883; and that the tonnage transported on the Pennsylvania railroad increased from 4,722,015 tons in 1868 to 21,674,160 tons in 1883. The total tonnage transported by rail on these three roads increased from 10,476,857 tons in 1868 to 46,177,223 tons in 1883.

Statement showing the reduction in freight charges per ton per mile on the New York State canals, and on several leading trunk railroads of the United States.
